IN THE BEE TO-DAY

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Weather Bureau.
Toledo, O., June 17, 1892.

There is an area of high pressure covering the southeastern states, another north of Lake Superior and another over Nebraska. There is a storm central over the extreme northwest and a slight depression is central over Missouri and Iowa. The advance of the storm area from the northwest has caused the temperature rise from 5 to 10 degrees over the west and northwest and will continue to cause the temperature to rise as it advances eastward. The high area of pressure over Lake superior has caused cooler weather over the lake region, and the "high" over Nebraska has caused a fall of 10 degrees over that state. In all other sections the temperature has risen slightly or remained stationary.

Rains during the past 24 hours have been confined mostly to the northern half of the country, and have been local.

Forecast for Toledo and vicinity for next 36 hours—Showers, slightly cooler.

E. A. HANNER, Observer.

Forecast for Ohio—Local showers; southerly winds, becoming variable; slightly cooler on Saturday.

Indiana and Illinois—Local rains and thunder storms, cooler in southern and central portions; southerly winds, becoming variable.

Upper Michigan—Generally fair and warmer; winds shifting to southerly.

Lower Michigan and Wisconsin—Local rains to-night, followed by clearing weather Saturday; slightly warmer; easterly winds.

MARRIED AT LIMA.

Lima, O., June 17.—Miss Vesta E. Maydole, daughter of N. M. Maydole, proprietor of the Hotel Normandie, and Mr. John M. Meeson, of Cleveland, were happily united in marriage here Thursday.

You can't believe some dealers always. They want to sell the medicine that pays them the largest profit. What you want to buy is the one that does you the most good. Which one is it? Sometimes, it may be a matter of doubt. But in the case of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, there's no room for doubt. It's a matter that can be proved.

With the facts before you, it's an insult to your intelligence to have something else offered as "just as good."

And here's the proof: Among all the medicines that claim to cure woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities, and diseases, the "Favorite Prescription" is the only one that's guaranteed.

If it doesn't do all that's claimed for it, if it doesn't benefit or cure, in every case, you'll have your money back.

There's strength and vigor for every tired and feeble woman, health and a new life for every delicate and ailing woman—and if there's no help, there's no pay.

Iowans Making a Clean Fight for Their Man.

The Cleveland-Hill Fight Grows Hotter Each Hour.

The Tammany Tiger Showing Its Teeth.

Sentiment Among the Uninstructed Delegates Reported to be Turning Toward a Man With No Factions Behind Him.

Chicago, June 17.—Chicago is beginning to look like a convention city. Decorations in appropriate forms are appearing here and there and at the hotels the crowds are larger than usual, and the probable outcome of the forthcoming convention is the one topic of the discussions that are carried on with vim and vigor.

What is known as the Hill delegation from New York, or the seventy-two delegates who were chosen at Albany to represent the Empire state at the convention will arrive here to-night on a special train with a host of retainers. The delegation leaders and Richard Croker have already arrived. Croker has in his pocket, for the purpose of influencing delegates from the west and northwest, and other sections of the country, copies of a resolution which was adopted at a meeting of the delegation a couple of weeks ago. It is not very long but means a mighty sight. This is how it reads:

"Resolved, That this delegation declares its purpose to urge and vote for the nomination of David B. Hill at the national convention until he shall be nominated, or as long as he will permit his name to be used as a candidate.

Richard Edward Murphy, who is chairman of the delegation, tells everyone that the New Yorkers will not vote for the nomination of Grover Cleveland under any circumstances, on the ground that he is not an available candidate for the presidency. Numerous other delegations are expected in to-night.

CHAIRMAN BRICE.

He Sees Victory in the Air for the Democracy.

Chicago, June 17.—Calvin S. Brice, chairman of the national democratic committee, Mrs. Calvin S. Brice, his wife, and Miss Helen Brice, their daughter, with two maids, have arrived at the Palmer. They were shown at once to Parlor Y, which is to be Mr. Brice's private headquarters during the convention.

"I've just arrived," said Chairman Brice, "and haven't anything to say. Of course, I am perfectly satisfied with the action of the Ohio state convention. Ohio is all right. I find everything in excellent shape here. I am delighted with the prospects of the grandest convention ever held by any political party in the United States. It will be the largest and the results will be the grandest, because the ticket which we will make here will carry the country for good government and for the people."

Here in Illinois there is likely to be considerable dissension. The delegation promises to be divided between Cleveland, Hill, Palmer and Morrison. On the first ballot, and while Cleveland's name is before the convention, the 48 delegates of Illinois stand instructed to vote for him as a unit, but it is a doubtful question whether all will do so or not. If there is a prospect of Cleveland's defeat the Illinois men are instructed in that event to vote for Palmer as a unit, but it will be found that in that event both Morrison and Hill will get some of the delegates.

But little is yet heard about ex-Gov. Campbell of Ohio, but he may, under certain circumstances, be brought forward.

W. C. Goudy is making a strong pull to hold the Illinois delegation to Cleveland, in the hope that if the ex-president is renominated and re-elected he can control the patronage of northern Illinois at least. On the other hand Morrison, who owes his position to Cleveland originally, will work on the same tactics in southern Illinois, with the same motives in view. He will be a candidate himself for president if Cleveland gets out of the way, or with him for vice-president, but Gen. A. E. Stevenson of Illinois will likely loom up for the latter place, as will also Cleveland's ex-pension commissioner, Gen. Black.

MARYLANDERS FOR GORMAN.

The Force Will Be 600 Strong, With the Senator at the Head.

Chicago, June 17.—Word is received that the Maryland delegation has left for Chicago. Senator Gorman is coming with them in a private car. A dispatch says:

Ex-Senator Davis, of West Virginia, who is enthusiastic for Gorman, will have his own private car attached to the train and will take part of the West Virginia delegation with him. The Iroquois club will have 175 men in line and the Calumet club 225, besides a big band and drum corps. Both clubs have been drilling industriously, and expect to do a great deal of parading in Chicago. Arrangements have been completed for the transportation of Marylanders who will go to Chicago to the number of 600. Besides the delegation to the convention and the two big clubs there are quite a large number of influential politicians and prominent business men who feel an interest in the possible nomination of Senator Gorman.

THE CLEVELAND MEN.

They Get the Advantage in Securing a Location.

Chicago, June 17.—That was a big march that was stolen on the Hill men by the Cleveland leaders by securing rooms on the parlor floor of the Palmer house for headquarters.

It was at first given out that the Cleveland headquarters were to be at the Grand Pacific hotel in the ladies' parlor, and it was kept a profound secret that the rooms had been secured at the Palmer until the last minute.

As the Palmer is the seat of democracy next to the wigwam, this victory by the Cleveland men over the Hillites is a great one, indeed, and the latter are now downcast over their defeat.

Great is the victory of the Cleveland men in securing these headquarters, for they are right in the midst of the battlefield and near the apartments occupied by Calvin S. Brice and S. P. Sheerin of the national committee and parlors Z, W, X, and Y are the headquarters of the national committee itself.

The large club room which has been secured is located on the parlor floor, overlooking the main rotunda. It is well lighted and ventilated and has a seating capacity of 250 people. A fine view is had up and down State street, with a door leading into the first officer's rooms and through that an entrance into the 5 o'clock dining room, and from that into the main dining room. The quarters can easily be enlarged by adding the first officer's rooms to them.

Twenty-seven state delegations have secured headquarters at the Palmer house which will make it the very center of work during the coming week.

The apartments at the Palmer will be the national headquarters of the Cleveland men, and the parlors at the Grand Pacific will be retained for state headquarters.

The other delegations at the Palmer, with the rooms assigned, are:

Alabama, room 24; Colorado, 30; Delaware, 12; Florida, 134; Georgia, 8; Indiana, 36-38; Iowa, balcony club room, 31-33; Kentucky, 42; Kansas, 48; Louisiana, 28; Michigan, 20; Maine, 40; Massachusetts, 46; Maryland, 22; North Carolina, 4; New Hampshire, 26; New Mexico, 23; Ohio, 44; South Carolina, 41; Texas, 18; Tennessee, 52; Utah, 14; Virginia, 54; Washington, 6; West Virginia, 16.

GOSSIP.

Notes Picked Up in Chicago Among the Delegates.

Chicago, June 17.—Gen. Palmer is confident still that Grover Cleveland will be renominated.

The Iowa boomers are flooding the various delegation headquarters with Boies literature.

The Iowans have prepared for a grand torchlight procession in Chicago next Monday evening.

It is currently reported that Mr. Cleveland wants to withdraw, and that he will insist upon doing so if not nominated on the first ballot.

It is learned from Senator Shields that the Iowa delegation will be here on Saturday and will hold a meeting, when it will be polled solid for Boies.

A Washington estimate gives Cleveland 644; Hill, 196; Boies, 42; Gorman, 16. The Hill estimate is Hill, 314; Cleveland, 475; Palmer, 48; Carlisle, 35; Boies, 36. This is for the first ballot.

The attitude of Gen. John M. Palmer toward Clayton E. Crafts for the temporary chairmanship of the convention, if read between the lines, looks like a rupture between these two gentlemen. He says he will not be selected. Palmer may turn out to be wrong.

Senator Shields, chairman of the Iowa delegation, has arrived. "It will be Cleveland or Boies," he said. "If the trouble in New York is patched up it will be Cleveland; if it isn't it will be Boies. Should Cleveland be nominated Boies will be wanted for vice-president. I go to tell them that Boies is not a candidate for second place and positively will not accept it. He can carry Iowa if placed at the head of the ticket. Furthermore, it is our honest and deliberate judgment that he would prove the strongest man in the country before the people."

THE CLEVELAND MEN.

They Will Make a Big Fight for Their Man.

Chicago, June 17.—Col. John Tracy, the avant courier of Grover Cleveland and certain eastern newspapers, was busily engaged at the Grand Pacific hotel today in denying that he had arrived early on the ground to open Cleveand headquarters or to speak for the ex-president's New York supporters in any way.

"I have distinctly told the representatives of the press that this is not a Cleve and headquarters," said Col. Tracy to a reporter. "Nor am I authorized in any way to communicate anything more than my private views and opinions. These are my own private quarters and I employ my young lady typewriters to turn out my newspaper correspondence.

"But I am a Cleveland man personally and naturally take a deep interest in anything pertaining to his prospects, which, of course, are superior to those of any other candidate. Owing to my wide acquaintance a great many of the New Yorkers, and especially Cleveland men, come to me upon their arrival to gain a knowledge of the situation and for information of all sorts, which I cheerfully furnish so far as I am able.

"My rooms have been so crowded that I have been obliged to take more spacious quarters, and during the day will move down to parlor 10 on the main floor."

A prominent New Yorker and a stanch Tammany-Cleveland man, has just arrived in Mr. Nathan Strauss, Cleveland anti-snap delegate from the Thirteenth district, a well-known attorney and appointee of Mayor Grant's on the board of New York park commissioners. Mr. Strauss said this morning:

"The local ante-convention will develop into an effort on the part of all elements opposed to Cleveland to convince wavering ones, or the majority, that Cleveland cannot carry New York. This has always been the fight of the spoils-taking machine democracy of our state against the choice of reputable democrats of principle and of the democracy of the county. It has twice been tried on Cleveland before.

"The effect of his nomination in 1884 by the convention, which listened to the voice of the country and squelched the rancorous kickers, was of immense benefit to him at large, and if the majority will insist upon their rights and prove to the country that they recognize that the interests of the party lie with Cleveland nearly ten to one over any other candidate, they will add to the enthusiasm, satisfaction and spirit that will attend the campaign everywhere with Grover Cleveland as leader. Our delegates do not want a contest in New York, but we fully expect recognition at the hands of the convention and a place on the floor."

EX-SECRETARY FAIRCHILD.

The Head of the May Convention Talks.

Chicago, June 17.—Mr. Fairchild, secretary of the treasury under Mr. Cleveland, and the head of the May convention delegates from New York state arrived in the city during the day, and in response to numerous requests from newspaper men the following statement was prepared:

"Mr. Fairchild, who came from his home at Cazenovia, N. Y., and not direct from New York City, said that he could not speak understandingly of the course of the New York delegation, of which he is a member, until after the delegates had arrived and consulted. The delegates appointed at the Syracuse convention were not instructed, except as to their acting as a unit in accordance with the vote of a majority. They naturally desire to look the ground over before determining in detail the course they will pursue in behalf of the democratic voters of New York state, whom they represent. The delegates named at Syracuse will all be here on Sunday night, and their meeting for consultation will take place, no doubt, on Monday.

"Mr. Fairchild says that no fair-minded man, well informed as to the sentiment of New York, can doubt that Cleveland is by many thousand votes the strongest candidate for that state, which is so earnestly in favor of tariff reform, and which contains a very large body of independent voters, who are enthusiastic in support of Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Cleveland is, however, not the favorite of the New York democrats alone, but of the masses of the party throughout the country, and his friends from New York who have come here are moved by a desire that no mistaken idea about New York may influence the action of the delegates of other states.

"As to the methods of giving effect to this mission, and as to the course of the Syracuse delegation on matters of party administration, Mr. Fairchild repeated that nothing could be authoratively or intelligently said until after the consultation of the members of the delegation, who had not met together as a body since their selection on May 31.

"Mr. Fairchild further said that every one might be sure that the delegation appointed at the Syracuse convention would do that, which, after full consultation with the delegates from the whole country, so far as they would have it, would be wisest and for the best interest of the democratic party as a whole; that he and his friends would come there, not as a faction, but as men unselfishly devoted to the democratic party, who cared for it more than they did for any individual member of the party, and who were and would be absolutely unselfish in all their claims.

"They represented a great body of democrats in the state of New York—the vast majority of the democrats of that state. They represented that portion of the party which was absolutely devoted to democratic principles; which was ready to make sacrifices for the same, who had small demands to make for themselves; who carried elections, and who believed in the principles of the party above all things.

No man need feel, he said, that any member of this delegation would do anything for selfish or personal considerations which could, in his judgment, in the least imperil the well-being and success of the party."

LIKE A GREEN BAY TREE.

The Boies Boom Flourishes in the City of Chicago.

Chicago, June 17.—While the Cleveland and Hill men are doing furious battle, so far as enthusiasm and energy and sincerity are concerned, the Boies boom is flourishing like a Green bay tree.

More activity is displayed at his headquarters in the Palmer house than at any of the others that have been opened.

The Iowans are making a clean canvass, attacking none of the other candidates, but putting in their best efforts toward whooping up heir own favorite.

They say they have nothing against Cleveland, beyond the fact that he has once led his party to defeat, and that he has seriously hurt himself in the west by his stand on the silver question.

Apart from New York, they say he is not nearly as strong in the political affections of the masses of democratic voters as he was either in 1884 or 1888, and his selection for a third term would be something more than a mistake.

Gov. Boies, on the other hand, they say, has been steadily growing in strength in the west and the only logical outcome of the present situation is the selection of a western man.

They believe that Boies will not only carry Iowa, but the entire northwestern tier of republican states, and upon this belief and claim they will go into the convention.

So far, only the 26 votes of Iowa and the 16 of Nebraska have been conceded to Boies.

State Senator Shields, however, insists that the Iowa man will go into the convention with nearly 100 votes and that he has scores of telegrams and letters from delegates who have voluntarily placed themselves on record as being in favor of Boies as second choice.

The bulk of the Iowa delegation, with a body guard of a couple of thousand enthusiastic adherents of the Hawkeye governor will arrive to-night and from that time on the Iowans promise to make Rome howl.

CHAIRMAN BRICE.

Ohio Delegates Will Vote for a Man Who Can Win.

Chicago, June 17—When Chairman Brice was asked who would be temporary chairman of the convention he said:

"It is impossible to say at this time who the temporary chairman will be. At the last meeting of the national committee a sub-committee consisting of Senator Ransom, of North Carolina, as chairman, and four other gentlemen were appointed as a committee on temporaray organization. This committee will doubtless consider various gentlemen and finally report their choice to the full committee for its ratification. They will also decide upon the various other officers of the temporary organization. So I cannot even conjecture who the temporary chairman will be as I do not know whether the sub-committee have even given the matter consideration yet."

"In view of the contests that are to come before the convention, how will the temporary roll be made up?"

"The national committee will take them up at its first formal meeting probably. Wherever intricate cases are encountered, if there is any great volume of testimony to be considered, the committee will refer such cases to a sub-committee with instructions to investigate fully and report back to the full committee."

"Is the wigwam progressing to your satisfaction, and do you think it will be ready in time for the convention?"

"My advices up to date are that the building will be completed by Sunday and be ready by the time the convention is to open."

"What do think of the Ohio state convention?" some one inquired.

"The convention was a very large one. They were substantially unanimous in their opinion that no nomination for president should be made by that convention, but that a delegation should be selected to come to Chicago, look over the situation, consult together and then act together."

"How about Senator Brice as the coming dark horse?"

"Oh, I am not in it this year. I am not in a hurry."

GRAY'S BOOM.

It Has Just Budded, But May Not Blossom in Full.

Chicago, June 17.—The boom for ex-Governor Gray, of Indiana, is barely in its budding stage, although gaudily decorated headquarters have been opened at the Palmer house for the Indiana delegation.

A big consignment of lithographs of the ex-governor were delivered at the rooms by an express company this morning, but they will not be put out yet awhile, and the only picture that decorates the rallying ground is one of the late Thomas A. Hendricks.

Whether or not Gov. Gray's name shall be formally presented to the convention will not be determined until the full meeting on Sunday.

If the decision is in the affirmative, however, Senator Voorhees will be assigned to do the oratorical honors.

Under the instructions adopted by the recent state convention the delegation is to present an Indiana candidate only in the event of the sentiment drifting in favor of a western man, otherwise it is to stand by Cleveland as the logical candidate.

Some of the Indiana men think the delegation should vote as a unit for Cleveland on the first ballot, and then turn over to Gray if it developes that Cleveland cannot secure by any possibility the necessary two-thirds.

Thirteen of the delegates, however, are said to be for Cleveland to the end.

It is noticeable that there is more talk of Gray for the second place on the ticket than for the first, and Delegate-at-Large Samuel E. Morse, of Indianapolis, who is at the head of the Cleveland sentiment in the state, has already nailed up the colors of Cleveland and Gray.

THE WAR IS ON.

Cleveland Men Preparing to Attack the Tiger.

Chicago, June 17.—Save for the fact that more booms are under way, and that the men who love Cleveland for the enemies he has made, are not particularly numerous, the ante-convention situation very closely resembles that which prevailed in the days preceding the assembling of the representatives of the democracy of the nation in 1884, in the exposition building on the lake front, within a stone's throw of the wigwam, within which the coming convention will assemble, and which resulted in the nomination of Grover Cleveland, and subsequently in his triumphant election.

Then, as now, the anti-Cleveland element of the New York democracy forced hostilities from the moment of their arrival; then, as to-day, it asseverated that he could not unite the democracy of the Empire state and carry it in November; then, as now, it had but one battle cry, "Anybody to beat Cleveland." One conspicuous figure in the opposition of that year—John Kelly—is missing, but his place is ably filled by Richard Croker, with Lieutenants Governor Sheehan and Edward Murphy, jr., as stanch and capable lieutenants.

Whether the parallel will continue until the end of the convention, the developments of the coming week can determine.

Naturally enough the official statement of the anti-Clevelandites from New York, and which was made public last night, after hours had been spent in its preparation and revision, is the sensation of the moment at the various headquarters.

That it was a strong document is generally admitted. At the same time those who expected something startling are free to confess that it contains nothing more than a summary of the objections and declarations that the Tammany hallites have been putting out for months past.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild, who may be regarded as one of the principal mouthpieces of the Cleveland element, is emphatic in the opinion that the pronunciamento of the New Yorkers will certainly do no harm to the cause of the ex-president, while it may possibly be used to his advantage among the uninstructed delegates.

It is, he says, nothing more than the regular stereotyped Tammany kick, and which is now regarded as a concomitant of every national democratic convention.

They took the same course, he says, sixteen years ago, when they antagonized the prevailing sentiment for Tilden and loudly proclaimed that he was not the choice of New York.

On that occasion their opposition was kept up after the campaign, but notwithstanding this fact and the numerous speeches made by John Kelly against the sage of Grammercy Park, the latter carried his state by a majority of over 30,000 and was elected. Eight years ago Tammany was in the front rank of the opponents of Grover Cleveland and notwithstanding which he was both nominated and elected."

Lansing, Mich., June 17.—The Miner electoral law has been sustained by the unanimous opinion of the supreme court.

"Tammany was favorable to Cleveland four years ago, and he was defeated just as was Hancock, their favorite son, in 1880."

The ex-secretary is, therefore, inclined to look upon the support of Tammany as a withering blight, and upon its bitter antagonism, whether to Grover Cleveland or to any other candidate, as a good omen.

In fact, he is perfectly willing that Croker and his following should keep up their antagonism to the end, just as did John Kelly in 1884, when he marched out of the exposition building with his dogged features shrouded in gloom and the declaration upon his lips that he was through trying to prevent the national democracy making fools of themselves. The interposition of the Great Reaper enabled him to keep his word.

Nothing will be done by the Cleveland following in the direction of making a reply to the Tammany manifesto until the arrival of the anti-snap delegation.

Ex-Secretary Fairchild, however, is already at work upon such a document and which will be submitted to his colleagues as soon as they get in, which will probably not be until Sunday afternoon.

It is promised that the rejoinder will be just as strong and more clear and convincing than the original document. It will take the ground that Tammany to the contrary notwithstanding, Grover Cleveland is, in New York, to-day by far the strongest of all the candidates whose names are likely to go before the convention.

The coming campaign will be fought out solely on the issue of tariff reform, of which Grover Cleveland is the high priest, and in New York it must be of necessity the principal battle ground. The large independent vote can be secured only by this issue.

This vote, it will be declared, is in all earnestness and sincerity for Grover Cleveland and no one else. The anti-snap contigent, says Mr. Fairchild, should not be regarded as a faction, but as a body of men of weight and influence, who regard party success as more important than the ambitions of any individual, and who are unselfishly devoted to the interests of the party as a whole.

Mr. Fairchild expects to be joined this afternoon by ex-Mayor Grace, E. Ellery Anderson and two or three other of the advance guard of Cleveland's lieutenants.

He is anxious for preliminary conference to outline a plan of action for ascertaining the exact Cleveland sentiment in the various delegations.

When this has been accomplished the leaders will know just how much missionary work remains to be done, and where it is most needed.

It is likely that a leaf will be taken out of the book of plans and policies which was used to such good effect by the Harrison brigade at Minneapolis and that the now famous Market hall conference will be duplicated here in Chicago.

JOHN M. PALMER.

Illinois Delegates to Meet and Discuss His Candidacy.

Chicago, June 17.—Whether or not the name of Senator John M. Palmer will go before the convention is so far an undecided question.

That venerable democrat has many friends in the various delegations, but his possible candidacy is hampered by the failure of the Illinois state convention to instruct in his favor.

Gen. Palmer, himself, is an out and out supporter of Cleveland, and is anxious that his friends should not injure the prospects of the ex-president.

The Illinois delegation will meet tomorrow and the indications are that it will decide to give the 48 votes to Cleveland so long as he is in the race.

A ROW IN MICHIGAN.

Dickinson's Enemies May Split the Delegation.

Detroit, Mich., June 17.—The Michigan delegation to the Chicago convention, at a meeting yesterday, unanimously decided to present the name of Judge Allen B. Morse, of the supreme court of Michigan, for second place on the presidential ticket.

All is not harmony in the Michigan democratic delegation to the Chicago convention, in spite of the able leadership of Don M. Dickinson.

William T. Baker, one of the delegates, who is a Hill man, and a leading local democrat, said last night that a deal had just been made by which at least 20 of the Michigan delegates would be solid for Hill on the first ballot.

A conference of Hill leaders was held here yesterday.

Thompson, representing Hill, had to deal with the men from the state who are anxious to know how they will be treated by Hill in case they vote for him.

The control of the state and county committees was freely offered them with a guarantee that Detroit democrats should not interfere with them.

It is said that the deal was satisfactorily made and that Stewart, who is a leader of the opposition, being an enemy of Dickinson, promised that there would be 20 Hill votes on the first ballot and possibly more

RIOT AT A BULL FIGHT.

Spaniards After Blood and They Got It.

The Spectators Enter the Arena and are Severely Handled by the Enraged Brute.

Madrid, June 17.—While a bull fight was in progress yesterday at Linares, the spectators became enraged at the refusal of the mayor to increase the number of horses in the arena.

The mayor was assailed with stones and other missiles and the ring was invaded by the crowd.

The bull fighters became frightened and fled, leaving the bull unguarded.

The bull, maddened by the presence of the people, rushed into the crowd, and tossed them right and left.

One man was so badly gored that he expired almost instantly. Others were seriously injured.

The mayor ordered the gendarmes to drive the crowd out of the arena, but they refused to face the danger.

The mayor, who was in danger of being killed by the mob fled, followed by the angry citizens who nearly wrecked the prefecture in which he had taken refuge. He finally managed to reach the barracks where he was protected by the soldiers until the crowd dispersed.

PUT THEM TO SHAME

Miner Electoral Law Declared Constitutional.

Democrats Were Right in Their Michiganizing.

The Supreme Court of the State After Due Consideration Tells the Republicans That They Were Wrong.

Lansing, Mich., June 17.—The supreme court filed an opinion this morning sustaining the Miner electoral law.

The opinion was written by Justice Montgomery, and concurred in by all the other justices.

The opinion says it is evident that the question of greatest importance is that relating to the true interpretation of section 1, of article 2, of the federal constitution, which provides that "each state shall appoint, in such manner as the legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of senators and representatives to which the state may be entitled in congress."

In the judgment of the court these words are clearly susceptible of a construction which confers upon the legislature a power to say how the state action shall be voiced.

It further concludes that it would be a strained construction which would give to either the fourteenth or fifteenth amendments the effect to annul the power expressly delegated in section 1 of article 2, of the constitution.

It is clear that the fifteenth amendment was intended to preclude the state from making any discrimination against citizens on account of color.

By neither amendment was there any attempt to place limitations upon the authority of the state as to the choice of officers hereto, for presidential electors are still regarded as state officers.

In the decision it is admitted that the act is in conflict with the federal statutes insofar as it attempts to fix a date for the meeting of electors, and method of certifying their action, but holds that this does not render the entire act inoperative, as there is no doubt of the rule, that where the law of a state conflicts with the federal law in a matter in reference to which congress has the right to legislate, the state law must give way to the extent of such conflict.

The Miner electoral law divides the state into districts and provides that each district elects a presidential elector and it is not necessary for the state to vote as a unit.

POLITICS DROVE HIM MAD

A Strange Case Reported in Chicago.

Harrison Delegate Driven Into the River.

He Says the Blaine Men Persecuted Him to Such an Extent That Life Became Unbearable.

Chicago, June 17.—Alexander White (colored), a delegate from the First Texas district to the recent republican convention at Minneapolis, was fished out of the river here at 4 o'clock this morning by a policeman.

When White was taken to the station and dried out he declared that he had been chased into the river by his alternate, a colored man named Taylor, who had been making life unpleasant for him since before the convention.

Taylor, he says, was a Blaine man, and upon White's refusal to vote for the Maine statesman, Taylor and his accomplices drugged him and otherwise mistreated him.

They followed him all last night, White declares, and he finally jumped into the river to save his life. The city physician is investigating Mr. White's mental condition to-day.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN.

Picking Out a Man to Force the Fight.

Columbus, O., June 17.—There has been much speculation among the republicans as to the management of the campaign this fall.

For chairman of the state executive committee many good names have been suggested to Hon. S. M. Taylor, whose privilege it is to recommend. Among these names are Colonel C. W. F. Dick, of Akron, whose chairmanship of the Summit county committee for over two years has been successful; M. L. Smyser, of Wayne county; State Treasurer Alexis T. Cope, Hon. A. C. Thompson, of Portsmouth, and F. F. D. Alberry, of this city. The Leader was assured by one that stands on the inside of things generally republican, in the state, that the chairmanship will be tendered to Col. Dick.

MORE STORMS.

A Disastrous Wind in the State of Iowa.

Waterloo, Ia., June 17.—A disastrous hurricane passed through the northeast portion of this county early yesterday afternoon.

The storm dropped down on the farm owned by Gen. A. C. Fuller, of Belvidere, Ill., twelve miles north of here, completely wrecking almost everything on the place.

Five large barns are totally destroyed and houses somewhat damaged. As far as heard from no lives were lost there. The loss at this place and others will be fully $35,000.

AFTER AN ENGLISH FORTUNE.

Springfield, O., June 17.—Some time ago the story was published of the claims of the Kimballs of this county and other heirs to the immense Hyde estates in London, which includes Hyde park, London.

The various heirs have engaged Hale Hunter, esq., a well-known Urbana attorney, to represent them in England and Mr. Hunter has gone there for that purpose. He expects to be gone several months untangling the legal skeins that prevent the American heirs from realizing their great expectations.

SCAFFOLD GAVE WAY.

Wapakoneta, O., June 17.—John Kruger, a carpenter, engaged in erecting a dwelling in the west part of town, met with a very serious and probably fatal accident. He was working on a scaffold, which gave way, precipitating him to the ground. He fell on a stone-pile, striking his head, and, it was feared, injured him internally.

POTTER-SULLIVAN.

Delaware, O., June 17.—Quite a notable wedding took place at 9 o'clock yesterday morning at St. Mary's Catholic church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Style. The principals were Will J. Potter and Miss Josie Sullivan, two popular and well-known young people of this city.

WE COME HOME THIRD.

Rain Prevented the Game at Minneapolis.

The Latter Half of the Trip Very Successful.

General Base Ball News and Notes of General Interest to the Lovers of Outdoor Sports.

The Toledo team will open the series at home to-morrow, by playing Minneapolis.

Morton's men are scheduled to play Saturday, Sunday and Monday and should draw a large attendance.

This trip at home will conclude the playing of the first series, and the Toledo boys are going in to push themselves as far to the front as possible.

Mr. Gunnels is desirous of making the Toledo club as good as possible under existing circumstances, and says if Toledo is alloyed to play Sunday ball this city will have a club next season in a more compact and faster league.

Fred Smith, who was Toledo's popular pitcher for a long time, has consented to pitch some of the games this series in order to help out his friend Pears. Smith is at the park daily and has more speed this year than he ever had, and his control of the ball is excellent.

Everybody would like to see Fred go in and give a good account of himself.

Some of the Western league clubs are talking of strengthening for the second series, but it is doubtful if it can be done, under the constitution, and Toledo is so well advanced in the first race that any move to strengthen would meet with opposition from the other clubs.

The boys on the present trip have done good work considering their handicap in not having all the pitchers in condition.

OIL GOSSIP.

St. Marys Field is Quiet Just Now.

St. Marys, O., June 17.—(Special)—There is little doing in the St. Marys field at the present time, and the chances for a continuance of such an existing state of affairs are very good, unless something big should be accidentally discovered. There is considerable of a possibility of a connection between this field and the Indiana pool just now, and should such a thing materialize there would be great activity, and it would make the biggest field ever discovered. Some very good wells have been completed in Indiana recently, and the indications for the opening of a producing oil field are very good, reports to the contrary notwithstanding. This field has shown a phenomenal decrease in production. The total numbed of wells completed in this county exceeds 2,500, while the capacity is almo- 8,000 barrels per day against 25,000 a year ago. Close drilling, the result of lively competition, has practically killed the field.

The Ohio Oil Co.'s No. 9 on the W. G. Kishler farm is completed and good for 60 barrels.

Barnes & Neely's No. 5 on the Barrington is drilling.

The Ohio Oil Co.'s No. 1 on the Geo. King farm, Noble township, has just been finished up and is good for 35 barrels.

The Home Oil Co.'s No. 4 on the Newman farm is doing about 20 barrels.

The Ohio Oil Co.'s No. 15 on the Finity farm, Moulton township, is good for 40 barrels.

THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

The Death of Polk Has Left Them in a Quandary.

Washington, June 17.—The sudden and lamented death of Col. L. L. Polk, president of the Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union, has considerably disarranged the plans of that element so far as the forthcoming convention of the people's party at Omaha is concerned.

It had been the intention to give him the nomination either for president or vice president on account of his personal strength, not only in North Carolina, but amongst the alliance organizations throughout the south, and his administrative ability, his good judgment, his oratorical powers and his personal magnetism have been depended upon to play a large and important part in the campaign.

His death, therefore, leaves a gap which it is difficult to close. It is probable that, had he lived, he would have received the vice presidential nomination, as the feeling amongst the various elements making up the people's party has of late seemed to favor the selection of Gov. Pennoyer, of Oregon, for the first place on the ticket. This was before the recent election in which the granger element polled fully a third of the total vote cast, a vote which, combined with the democratic, would give the electors of Oregon to the new party.

Now that Col. Polk has passed to his last reward, the looking over the ground for an available candidate for the second place commences anew, and it is said there is a growing sentiment in favor of Congressman Jerry Simpson, of Kansas, better known as Sockless Simpson.

The latter, it is believed, is willing to make the race, as the people's party claims that it will not be lacking funds for the expenses of speakers, there is little doubt but what the renowned and witty granger may prove a lively and versatile figure in many states where he is known now only by reputation.

ROUTING AN ARMY.

How the Worst Invasion of Modern Times Is Absolutely Overcome—Hints of Great Value.

When men or women feel depressed or debilitated at the present day, it is common to say, "I think I have malaria." What is malaria? It is only germs that get into the body; germs that thrive and increase unless they are killed; germs that worm themselves all through the system; germs that ruin the health and undermine the life. They are aggressive, they feed upon the body, they must be killed. Many things which have been advocated for killing these germs will not do so. It has been thought that quinine would accomplish this, but many people cannot take quinine; it disagrees with them, it often nauseates. It is known, however, that pure spirits taken in moderation will kill and entirely exterminate the worst army of germs which ever invaded the system. They cannot withstand it. Under the influence of pure stimulants the germs are killed, and the body is strengthened to expel them from the system, and thus restore the health.

It should not be understood, however, that all spirits will do this, few will. It requires something specially pure, and specially designed for this purpose, and that is precisely what Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is. It is a scientific, medicinal preparation. It does not rank with the ordinary whiskies, but is specially designed for fortifying the body and repelling disease. It has the highest endorsements of doctors and scientists; it is wonderfully popular because it is so efficient and powerful. Do not be deceived into the use of any other, for there is no other preparation upon the market that can accomplish what is accomplished by Duffy's Pure Malt. You will find that it is kept by reliable druggists and grocers.

WHEELS WENT AROUND.

The Lantern Parade a Grand Success.

A Description of Some of the Mounts.

None Expected That It Would be Such a Grand Affair and Everybody Wants It Repeated.

It reminded one of a fete day in some Chinese village, or a lot of fireflys let loose or perhaps a captive chain of lightning, or a big-tailed comet, or anything that is long and bright and lively. The lantern parade was a big success, and the members of the Cycling club and all their friends who participated can swell a little to-day for having had a hand in such a grand affair.

There were big men on little wheels, little men on big wheels, fat boys on flimsy racers, lean ones on stolid road machines, girls on safeties pumping along like old stagers, girls who rode wibblety wobblety, girls who rode like mayors, kids with their shanks, roly poly youngsters, and in fact all kinds, sizes and grades of riders, and without seeming end.

Chief Raitz with officers McLean, Lapton and Rabe headed the line on horses. A score of non-riding members followed on a drag. They were costumed in linen dusters and straw hats, and were armed with horns. They kept up a lively tooting, and imagined that they were the band, although they did not play any special tune and showed a distant aversion to harmony. It was noise though, and noise went.

The club members then fell in line, followed by the ladies, the non-members, and last, but certainly not least, the kids. Nearly all the wheels were decorated and it was a novel sight.

The streets along the line of march or rather the line of ride, were lined with hundreds of people and many residences were decorated on Madison, Twelfth, Monroe and Collingwood. Fireworks and colored lights were set off in profusion all along the line.

Snap Shots With a Kodak.

M. Mendelssohn had a big ball of flags overhead.

Judge Austin and his son rode together on a safety.

James Cohoon had his wheel rigged out like a yacht.

Orus W. Jones had an original and very pretty decoration.

Chief Raitz, in full uniform, mounted on a charger, looked finely.

W. J. Baker had a perfect "three balls" sign in front of his wheel.

The ladies in line were pretty, graceful, and altogether out of sight.

R. M. Hiett had a circular canopy of lanterns dangling overheed.

It is generally desired by all interested that the parade be repeated.

Howard Chapman's wheel was one of the prettiest among the boys.

Edmund King had an umbrella top rigging to keep the sun off, he said.

Ed Fox had a pretty design in the form of a large T in front of his bike.

Capt. Hines says that another parade will probably be given in the fall.

Fred Rackstraw was made up as a wild Indian, and was a show in himself.

Marshall Bell was in the kids' brigade with a handsomely decorated wheel.

There were nearly 400 machines in line. There were 25 ladies in the parade.

Walter Wooley was there with one of the most tastely decorated wheels in the line.

Carl Spitzer had 16 large lanterns on his safety, overhead, underneath and all around.

Harry Jenkins had a fine turn-out, a square of lights and colors on the front of his wheel.

The police gave the boys and girls full swing, and help to make the event the success it proved.

Sam Fisk had lanterns all over and a big umbrella on top. The rider was lost in the decorations.

W. S. Buckout had a flag larger than himself and the wheel combined, waving ahead of his steed.

Chas. F. Mellink was seated in a little house of lights and bunting, and looked like a fairy in his bower.

W. D. White had one of the most novel designs in line, a handsome star nearly seven feet from tip to tip.

Chas. Locke's wheel was handsomely draped in white and yellow surmounted by four mammoth lanterns.

Sol Lasalle had a clever design. Overhead he had a transparency reading, "For that tired feeling ride a bike."

Fred Boice looked like a girl in a lemonade booth at a fair, ensconced in an outrigging covered with lanterns.

One of the prettiest displays was that of Mr. and Mrs. George Harriott and baby on one wheel. Their tandem was rigged out like a complete three-masted schooner.

Eddie Sassman was made up to represent Chile, and as he is a little fellow and a lively one, he played the part well. He had a card on his back telling what he was.

Phillip Uhl had one of the finest displays. A five-foot white umbrella spread over his wheel with 12 large lanterns hanging from the ribs. He looked like an illuminated mushroom.

The Toledo cyclers might arrange for another parade and invite wheelmen from surrounding towns to participate. Merchants would doubtless give prizes for the finest club turnouts and prizes for the finest individual displays.

W. H. St. John made lots of fun. He was mounted on an elaborately decorated wheel and was made up as a burlesque policeman, red whiskers, club and all. His efforts to keep the crowd straight all along the line were very laughable.

Jim Lasalle had one of the finest displays in the parade. His wheel was rigged out to represent a large yacht. The outline was perfect and in the dark, at a distance it looked as if the phantom ship was swooping down on the spectators.

J. H. Rensler had a finely decorated wheel and overhead a transparency bearing the following inscriptions:

"May Heaven's utmost
Grace abide
With those who have
No bike to ride."

"May the devil cure your dislike
For wholesome sport like riding a bike."

FOR THREE MONTHS.

A Civilian Sentenced for Fighting a Duel.

Berlin, June 17.—Frederick Von Schoen, a civilian, has been sentenced to imprisonment for three months at Mayence for fighting a duel with Lieut. Zienssen, of the German army.

The affair grew out of the antagonism which has been growing to a serious extent between the military and civilians at Mayence, and which is largely due to the arrogance of the military.

Lieut. Zienssen caused great offense, it is said, by attempting to imitate the arrogant conduct of Lieut. Von Lucius, who recently, at a beer garden, insisted that every civilian passing out should first salue him in military style, and then jump his (the lieutenant's) leg. The affair at the time caused almost a riot.

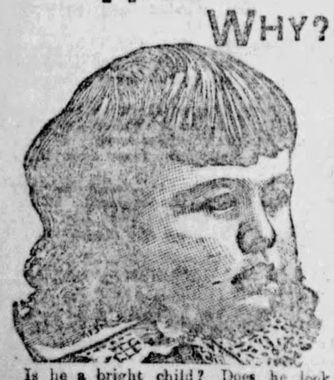
HEALTHY. HAPPY. WHY?



Is he a bright child? Does he look healthy and happy? He is bright, and he is both healthy and happy. He is the little son of Mrs. Henry T. Bowers, wife of the well-known contractor and builder, who resides in Dorchester avenue, South Boston. Mrs. Bowers has had quite an experience with her children, which experience we give in her own words, as follows:

"I have a little boy two and one-half years of age, the perfect picture of rugged health, and also a little girl of four. I attribute their good health and good temper to the use of Dr. Hand's Remedies.

I have used, as occasion required, the entire line, and have had very marked results from the Colic Cure, Cough and Croup Medicine, and the Pleasant Physic. I have never had any but good result from the use of any of them."

No mother would make a statement like the above unless she knew wholly whereof she affirmed.

AUDITOR PHEATT

Is Remembered by the Office Force of the Woolson Co.

City Auditor James H. Pheatt is soon to join the ranks of the Benedicts. Perhaps this is why the office force of the Woolson Spice company made a presentation to him this morning. Mr. Pheatt formerly was bookkeeper for the company, and although two years have elapsed since he held that position, the boys have not forgotten him. This present, which bore a card appropriately inscribed and was decorated handsomely with ribbons, was a—a well, it was a—that is—er—um—er—er—a high chair for a small child. That's what it was.

AN ADVENTUROUS LAD

Attempts to Dirve Off with a Delivery Wagon.

This morning while a driver for Heltzman & Harm, Cherry street, was delivering some groceries in a house opposite the Woolson Spice company's works, on Huron street, a little mite of a lad, not over four years old, was seen to climb into the wagon. Before any of the onlookers could interfere the child picked up the reins and whip, and striking the spirited horse a cutting blow of the whip the animal dashed off on a galop and everyone expected to see a collision and probable calamity, when an employe of the Woolson's rushed out and catching hold of the rear end of the wagon swung himself in. The runaway horse was stopped just in time to avert colliding with an electric car. The child was too young to chastise or question, and when lifted from the wagon he laughingly offered the frightened driver a peanut as a peace-offering.

BOARD OF CHARITIES

Organized and Elected Officers Last Night.

The board of charities held a meeting at the Adams street mission last evening, and effected an organization, electing Mrs. Ellen S. Fray president, and Mrs. Sarah Bissell secretary. All the members of the board were present except Mr. L. G. Richardson, who is out of the city. The members of the board are expected to visit all the charitable institutions in the county, at least four times a year, and defray their own expenses. Gen. Slevin remarked to a Bee this morning that as the honors of office were rather empty, including neither salary nor "pickings," they were magnanimously and unanimously conferred on the ladies. The meetings will be held whenever business makes it necessary, in the Adams street mission.

The Fourth of July will be celebrated by our German fellow citizens with one of the largest demonstrations the city has ever witnessed. Most of the German societies of Toledo and the neighboring cities will take part in the celebration, and the committee of arrangements, which is very actively at work, will have its program ready for publication in a short time. The oration of the day will be delivered by Prof. Martin Friedberg.

TO TURN A PENNY

For the Purchase of a Pipe Organ.

About six months ago the various societies connected with St. John's M. E. church united in a purpose to secure funds for the purchase of a pipe organ, and literary concerts, etc., have been the go since. Now another scheme has been devised. It is proposed to erect an ice cream tent on the grounds adjoining the church, and this evening, for the first time, open house will be held in the tent, and some of the ladies will be in charge during the hot summer nights to dispense refreshments, and friends are invited. Success must surely follow such indefatigable labors.

IN LABOR CIRCLES.

Labor Day Parade to Take Place in the Morning.

The Central Labor union at the meeting last night very wisely decided to hold the Labor day parade in the morning. This is a move in the right direction. The working man's holiday should not be made more wearisome than a work day, and that is what a long march in the hot sun amounts to. There will be no industrial parade, for the reason that such parades have been used as advertisements by non-union firms, and the trades unions do not want labor day used for such a purpose.

A building committee consisting of one member from each union represented in the central lodge was appointed to further arrangements for the Labor home. A committee was also appointed to try to settle the trouble existing between the brewery drivers' union and the Buckeye union. The following new delegates were admitted: Emil Schoch and Wm. Seik from the Bakers' union, and John E. Sullivan from Typographical union, No. 63.

FACTS ABOUT QUININE.

Perhaps no drug known to medicine is more generally used than quinine, and, certainly, none presents such a wide difference in price as the quinine sold six years ago and that sold now. At that time nearly all the cinchona bark, from which it is extracted, was brought from South America, subject to heavy import duty. But the duty was taken off, and this marked the first big decline in price. Before that time it sold for about $1 an ounce.

Shortly after this English capitalists concluded that the bark could be grown in India as well as in South America, and large plantations were purchased. The climate and soil suited admirably, and, by scientific culture, the yield was greatly increased. From India the bark is largely shipped to England and the quinine extracted, being sent here in crystals. Because of the taking off of the duty and the largely increased supply, the price in quantities of 10,000 ounces is about 20 cents per ounce.

Some time ago the rumor of a big foreign trust caused the price to advance several cents, but it dropped and is now lower than ever before.—Philadelphia Record.

AH SIN'S DEVIOUS WAYS.

In the Straits settlements the Chinese appear occasionally more than a match for the westeren barbarian. It is the practice of the merchants selling goods to receive payment in rolls of copper coin done up in paper, each roll containing 50 cents, and it has occurred to some of their wily customers to substitute for these rolls packages containing a piece of bar iron the exact size and weight of a roll of 48 cents. An ordianry cent is put on each end of the bar in case the end of the roll should be opened. One merchant, it is stated, received recently $40 in alleged rolls of copper, and found on opening them that each roll contained two cents and an iron bar. The unlucky dupe, it is added, failed to obtain convection from lack of sufficient evidence.—London News.

A MONKEY'S REVENGE.

The following anecdote clearly illustrates the reasoning powers of the monkey tribe: One was kept tied to a stake in the suburbs of Havana, in a place where he was repeatedly robbed of his food by crows. One day he laid still on the ground, pretending to be dead. The crows were allowed to steal to their heart's content until the artful samian was sure they were in reach. Instantly he grabbed one by the leg, and, despite its loud calls for help, literally plucked every feather from the luckless bird and then flung it towards its screaming companions.

Cleveland Will Be the Candidate.

It is almost as certain as if the ballot had been taken that Grover Cleveland will be the democratic candidate for president. The great masses of the party desire and insist upon his nomination, and nothing, as now appears, can prevent the delegates from nominating him on the first ballot. We may as well align our columns to this candidacy now as a week hence and buckle on the armor for the campaign and the election.

Can Cleveland be elected? Yes. Can he be elected without New York? Probably, else he might not be elected. It will be worse than folly for democrats to deceive themselves at all during the campaign and it is much better to now face conditions as they are than to awake to the realization of bad features in the midst of the campaign.

Mr. Cleveland is not strong enough to carry New York over the fight which the factions are certain to carry into the campaign. He had little home opposition in 1884. He has serious trouble now, though the defection may not spread over the border into Connecticut or over the river into New Jersey.

To be elected and still lose New York, will require material western help. The more enthusiastic Cleveland supporters believe Cleveland can carry Massachusetts. Such talk is folly. As well might he hope to carry Pennsylvania or Maine in a presidential year. Perhaps a few presidential years hence, not now.

The thirty-six electoral votes must come from west of the Alleghenies. Michigan will surely give half a dozen, and if Boies shall be the vice presidential candidate, there is hope of Iowa. Nebraska and one of the Dakotas, also are by no means certain for the republicans.

The best fighting ground for the democrats from present appearances is Ohio. The adminstration is not strong in this state. It is weak in parts and there are many weak parts. The trouble at Minneapolis will not be patched up in one campaign. An aggressive, well-managed campaign may give Ohio's twenty-three electoral votes to Grover Cleveland, for, whatever reports may be published to the contrary, the democrats of Ohio have faith in Grover Cleveland. We have more than a fighting chance to elect Mr. Cleveland, in spite of the feeling in New York. It would be better to have a candidate who would surely carry New York, but it is not entirely discouraging to have one who may carry that state, and it is comforting to have one who, better than any other man, will the most likely carry some western states. This is the situation as it really is and there is more reason for a united front in this section, that the democrats may with hope look forward to the election of a democratic president, that president being Grover Cleveland.

Call Michigan.

Call Michigan in electoral calculations and the response will be at least six votes for the democratic candidate for president.

It was finally so decided Friday morning by the Supreme court of Michigan, and by the unanimous decision of the court.

The law, passed by the legislature, providing that the electors shall be chosen by congressional districts, was resisted by the republicans upon the ground of unconstitutionality.

This settles the matter and the districts which are democratic will choose democratic electors next November. There are twelve districts and it is believed the democrats will carry at least half and perhaps more.

Thus does Michigan move from bondage, out of Egypt and into the promised land of democracy, prosperity and progress.

Mister Depew.

There is a great deal of "Depew" in it. "Mr. Depew says Mr. Platt will work for the ticket like the good republican that he is." Mr. Depew says "the valiant Blaine leaders will be fitly recognized by the administration." Mr. Depew says "I talked with Clarkson after the close of the convention and he did not show any bitterness." Mr. Depew said "I saw Mr. Kenney, myself, before Reid's nomination, and he assured me the labor troubles with the Tribune office had all been adjusted; so you see," said Mr. Depew, "Mr. Reid is practically the nominee of Typographical Union No. 6." Said Mr. Depew, "Harrison will be elected by increased majority; the state of New York is all right." Mr. Depew says "Secretary Elkins has said nothing to me about the president's desire to have me take the state portfolio." Mr. Depew is still talking.

New York goes right on loving Chicago, because it got the world's fair and Theodore Thomas and the crack eastern university men and the best military band leader in the United States and a Grant monument and the democratic convention and several other things too numerous to mention. The New York Herald says:

"Many an American spends time and money visiting the leaning tower of Europe and is yet ignorant of the greater curiosities to be seen in this country. The Chicago postoffice has settled about a foot into the mud, and geologists predict that it will in time disappear. Be patriotic and go see the settling postoffice.

"What was the matter with Allison?" Well, he isn't orthodox enough on the question of high protection and he isn't good enough hater of any section of his country to desire to throw it into a state of semi-anarchy by the passage of a force bill, which he knows means only party advantage through party power, and no solution at all of the question that must solve itself in the course of time. These are the things that are "the matter with Allison."

The Chicago Herald very wisely warns those "whom it may concern:"

There is a lesson in the defeat of James G. Blaine at Minneapolis which should be heeded by the hero worshipers in all politica parties. It shold teach them that personal leadership, however magnificent, is at best transitory and often disappointing. Every leader must meet final defeat, either at the hands of the people or in death. Principles only are imperishable.

"Mr. Watterson is glad the Ohio convention went anti-Cleveland." The Ohio convention did no such thing. To send delegates uninstructed doesn't mean anti anybody. It means simply, await developments, and act judiciously.

The astute Boston Journal calls Senator Carlisle a mugwump. Well, the republican party has been defeated by the mugwumps before now, and the scorn isn't so fine as was intended, even if there were a word of truth in the silly speech.

STREET CAR CONTROVERSY.

Rapid Transit Threatened With More Trouble.

The Robisons Want to Improve the Tracks While the Consolidated Objects, Obstructs and Appears Against Public Policy and Public Sentiment.

There is a serious tilt between the street railway companies at present which may seriously interfere with rapid transit unless the council acts promptly.

This is the situation:

The tracks on Adams, Summit, Monroe, Ottawa and Broadway are out of repair and must be relaid. The Robison condemnation suit of the Adams tracks provides for joint use and joint maintenance of tracks, while on Summit, Monroe, Ottawa and Broadway, the condemnation extends only to the use of the present tracks.

The result of this latter provision is that the Consolidated purposely allows the trackage to wear out, so that the Robisons may have no right to use the streets when new rails shall be laid. If the Consolidated relays the principal streets—those in which the public are directly interested, and which directly and vitally affects rapid transit, the Robisons will be debarred from using the streets and new condemnation suits must be commenced.

It is a game of freeze out which the Consolidated is playing, and to stop this obstructive method, the council is wisely called upon to act.

The ordinance now pending, and which was approved by the committee last night, provides that the tracks shall be relaid in first-class manner, and that they shall be jointly occupied and owned by the two companies. The ordinance provides that either or both parties may elect, within five days after its passage, to accept the terms of the ordinance. In case one accepts and the other does not, then the one so accepting shall relay the tracks and the other shall pay a rental. This is an eminently fair proposition. The object is to provide the very best construction and the very best service. The Robisons have used the Consolidated tracks nearly a year, for which they have paid $33,000 in money. The contemplated improvements will cost as much more, yet the Robisons are ready and willing to comply with the provisions of the pending ordinance. They have the material on hand and purpose continuing to make improvements until Toledo shall have the best street car service in the United States. The Consolidated is resisting the passage of the ordinance, and thereby it becomes an obstruction to public improvement, because its managers know that public policy demands that certain streets shall be jointly used by the two companies. The wonderful growth of the city in certain directions is contingent upon such joint use, and public sentiment is entirely favorable to the settlement of this question by the council so that there shall be no further trouble and no further difference between the two companies.

The pending ordinance is right and ought to be promptly passed by the council.

NOVEMBER TENTH.

Date Set for the Laying of the Corner Stone

Of St. Francis de Sales Schools—It Will Cost $60,000 or Thereabouts—Councilmen Meet.

The councilmen of St. Francis de Sales church met last evening and discussed ways and means of erecting the proposed new schools.

It was decided to build the schools at a cost not to exceed $60,000. The 10th of November has been set for the laying of the foundation, and the occasion will be made a memorable event.

The means of raising the money have not yet been fully devised. All members will be assessed from $5 to $100 per annum for a term of years. The councilmen are at work on the assessments, and it is probable that on next Sunday Rev. Dr. Quigley will announce the full details from the pulpit.

A DAMAGE SUIT

Resulting From the Maumee Avenue Bridge Wreck

Filed in Common Pleas Court by Conductor Sweeney—$30,000 Damages Asked.

The first suit was filed in common pleas court to-day, as a result of the recent bridge accident on Maumee avenue, over the Lake Shore railroad, May 13.

The suit is brought by Thomas Sweeny, the conductor, who was injured in the wreck, against the Consolidated Street Railway company, Lake Shore Railroad company and the city of Toledo, to recover $30,000 damages for personal injury sustained.

The petition sets up that it was the duty of the defendants to maintain a bridge over the railway cut to safely sustain all traffic, and to keep the same in good repair. It claims that the defendants failed to do this, but permitted the bridge to become worn and rotten for want of repair, all of which was known to the defendants.

BARK BOARD OF TRADE

The One Time Pride of the City of Chicago,

Now Turns Up as a Common Lumber Barge.

The Story of Her Sinking and the Charges of Fraud—General Marine News.

Chicago, June 17.—The old bark, Board of Trade, with her top hamper down and converted into a barge, arrived in Chicago yesterday, for the first time in several years, her cargo being lumber from Lake Superior.

When the Board of Trade first came out she was rated the finest clipper ship of them all, and she certainly was a noble craft. She had been named in honor of the Chicago Board of Trade, and on her arrival here on her maiden trip she was presented with a handsome set of colors by a committee from that body and a reception to the members generally was given on board.

She is now an historical craft, and her name always recalls an interesting incident in her career.

One season, twelve or fifteen years ago, the captain of a large schooner on her way to Chicago, was detected by the crew, while the vessel was in deep water outside, and the wind was blowing a good, stiff breeze, in the hold making an auger hole through the side with the evident intent of sinking her.

The crew put the master in irons, locked him in the cabin, and brought him a close prisoner to this port.

The underwriters thought they saw a case of attempted "selling"—that is to sink the vessel in order to obtain the insurance on her.

The owner of the vessel was a good, reputable man and no case could be made out, the general opinion being that the captain was crazy, or that malice prompted the act.

A great sensation was created a short time afterward by the bark Board of Trade, bound from Buffalo to Chicago, suddenly sinking without apparent cause on lake Erie.

She was owned by the same man whose property the bored schooner was, and the underwriters united then and determined upon a full investigation.

The board of trade was in very deep water and under ordinary circumstances she would have been pronounced a total loss and left where she was. But the suspicions of the insurance people were thoroughly aroused and they resolved to spare no xepense in order to prove, as they claimed, that there had been foul play in both instances.

They spent a great deal of money in carrying out their investigations.

Numerous divers, after weeks of searching, failed to discover any cause for the vessel's sinking.

An expedition was then organized at Buffalo, several strong tugs were taken to the scene, the divers made strong lines fast to the hull and it was dragged along the bottom of the lake for miles until shallow water was reached. Here the usual wrecking operations commenced and the vessel was finally raised.

There was every prospect of a great contest in court and the underwriters were desirous of employing the very best talent obtainable for the critical inspection which was to be made of the vessel. They sent to Chicago and employed Mr. Dolittle, of the firm of Dolittle & Bates.

The owner of the vessel for his great prospective battle against the underwriters, naturally wanted good talent on his side and he employed Mr. Bates, of the firm of Dolittle & Bates.

The joke of the thing was that each of the partners slipped away from Chicago on the night train for Buffalo, unknown to the other, neither dreaming that the other had been engaged at all in the case.

When the Board of Trade was hauled out in drydock at Buffalo the two first men in the bottom of that muddy dock were the partners in the Chicago shipbuilding firm mentioned, the proprietors of the old south branch drydock, and they learned from each other then for the first time that they were on opposite sides in the big insurance investigation.

After a long time it was given out that the insurance side had made a great discovery—it being nothing less than that "the crafty manipulators on board the Board of Trade had succeeded in sinking the vessel by punching a hole in the water closet pipe, a crowbar or some such implement being used in the nefarious work."

This pipe was taken out of the vessel, carefully wrapped in cloth, sealed with sealing wax, and put in a vault for safe keeping.

But the whole thing fell through.

The insurance people could prove nothing. The steward of the Board of Trade testified that he was often careless enough to throw beef bones and other refuse into the water closet instead of throwing it overboard, and that whenever the pipe became choked up he would clear it out with a scantling which he had on board for the purpose. It was in this way that the hole in the pipe had been made, and the testimony of the steward destroyed the great case of the underwriters.

Mr. William W. Bates, one of the partners alluded to, has since been United States commissioner of navigation, and has just retired from that position.

Mr. Dolittle is now in the coal business in Chicago. The Board of Trade is still a good vessel, and if she meets with no accident will continue to make money for her present owners for years to come. In her time she has earned a fortune.

Pilgrim-Kalamazoo.

It seems that the Pilgrim-Kalamazoo case is to be investigated by the United States inspectors in Chicago, and not by those at Grand Haven. As the owners of the two boats and all the passenger witnesses reside over in the Michigan district, it was supposed that the Grand Haven inspectors would carry on the inquiry, but inasmuch as the collision occurred a little this side of the middle of the lake the Chicago inspectors will attend to the matter and all the witnesses will be compelled to come here from their homes in Michigan.

Changed Crews.

The union crew on the schooner Naragansett has been paid off, and Shipping-master Biemel will furnish the vessel with a full lake carrier crew. Mr. Biemel says he has the books and cards of a crumber of members of the union who have renounced that organization and shipped on Lake Carrier vessels. Biemel went to South Chicago last night to remain on board the schooner John Wesley all night in order to protect her crew from an anticipated raid by union men.

New Steamship.

Bay City, June 17.—The steel steamship W. H. Gilbert, launched here yesterday, is the property of the Erie Transportation company. She is 328 feet keel, 42 feet beam, 24 feet deep, and will be commanded by Calvin Chamberlain, and will leave in ten days.

Chicago Rates.

Chicago, June 17.—Grain rates held at 1 3-4 cents for corn again to-day. Two or three big carriers were unable to find cargoes to suit and left for ore. It now seems likely that grain rates will remain stationary, until ore advances.

Duluth Rates.

Duluth, June 17.—Three cents will doubtless be paid on wheat to Buffalo next week owing to an increased movement which now seems certain. Rates to-day are strong at 2 3-4 cents.

Canadian Pacific and Soo railroad officials are inspecting the whaleback steamers Pillsbury and Washburn for their Gladstone Buffalo line. The boats will be launched ready for service July 2.

Buffalo, June 17.—The lull in coal freights came after yesterday's rush, but rates are firm at the advance. Charters: Hawatha, Duluth, 35c; Annie Peterson, Chicago, 60c.

Cleveland Rates.

Cleveland, June 17.—Two vessels were chartered for ore this morning at 75c from Escanaba, an advance of 5c, but the shippers do not admit that a new rate is established as yet.

If it be sustained rates from Ashland to Marquette will also advance. There is no tonnage on the market to-day at the old figures.

LORD BERESFORD.

He Will Again Enter the Political Field.

London, June 17.—The statement is made that Lord Charles Beresford, commander of the British cruiser Undaunted, of the Mediterranean squadron, intends again to enter political life upon the expiration of his detail to the Undaunted.

He has submitted to the leading generals and admirals a comprehensive scheme for the national defense, in which the army and navy are treated as on body.

The scheme, it is said, amply meets the report of the Hartington commission.

Lord Charles Beresford's scheme has met with general approval and his friends say it will prove a gigantic success.

SURVEY TAKEN

For a Four-Tracked Railroad Between Here and Detroit

To be Operated Jointly by a Number of Roads on the Belt Line System—The Roads Interested.

The latest local movement in the way of railroad building is a four-tracked railroad between here and Detroit.

The survey has been taken by private parties, and all but a few miles of the right of way secured.

The C., H. & D. and the Pennsylvania are said to be two of the roads interested. Detroit is making an endeavor to secure the Pennsylvania, and although the local authorities of the Pennsylvania deny the report that the company is interested directly in the deal, it is a fact that the Pennsylvania wants to get there badly.

Mr. Geo. E. Pomeroy, who is a director in the C., H. & D., said to a Bee this morning in reply to a query, that the survey had been made and the right of way secured, but just what roads were or would be interested he would not say.

"Will the roads jointly use the Ann Arbor?"

"No. The idea is to have a three or four-tracked road operated on the system of the Belt line here."

"Is the deal nearing completion, Mr. Pomeroy?"

"Oh, it requires time to complete anything like this. I have no doubt but that such a line as I speak of will be constructed and in operation within three years."

It is alleged that both the Pennsylvania and the C., H. & D. are directly or indirectly interested in the new Union depot at Detroit.

The Ashleys are said to be the prime movers in the enterprise, and it is intimated that it is through them the right of way has been secured.

Mr. E. W. Tolerton, attorney for the Pennsylvania was asked by a Bee this forenoon if the Pennsylvania was in the deal.

"When the Pennsylvania has a road to Detroit it will own and control it," he said. "More than that I have nothing to say."

"It does not own or control the Belt line, does it?"

"That's a different matter. The Pennsylvania is not going to Detroit right away."

NO PENSIONS THIS MONTH.

Old Soldiers Complaining of Federal Office Holders

Who Were Too Busy Nominating Their Boss to Attend to the Wants of the Pensioners.

The old soldiers in the city and section are much disconcerted and disgusted with the failure of the pension bureau officials at Columbus to forward the stipends as usual.

The complaint is loud and prolonged, and the average soldier is waiting a day of reckoning.

"I think it is an outrage that these officials must run off to Minneapolis and discommode us in this way," a prominent pensioner said this morning. "Mr. Harrison will find, perhaps, that our votes will be just as essential to his success as the influence of his officeholders was to his nomination. Here it is the 17th and not a sign of our monthly pay yet. This little trick will cost Mr. Harrison 400 votes in this city alone, see if it don't."

More than a score of old soldiers have talked in a similar strain.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

THE GAS SUPPLY

Seems to be Failing Faster Than is Generally Supposed.

To the Editor:

At the meeting of the natural gas trustees yesterday Mr. Voit moved that the proposition of the rolling mill be rejected for the reason that the city had not sufficent gas and so large a supply would result in a permanent injury to the plant.

Said he, "I desire it to be understood that my motion to reject is not merely to reject, but because the city cannot supply the gas."

Mr. Greene seconded the motion and to support it said: "I do not believe the city can give the rolling mill the amount of gas it requires without injuring the service and permanently injuring the plant."

As I heard the above and from the gentlemen I was supposed, amazed, and as I consider it, am alarmed. These two trustees seem to be better posted in the details of the company, and in events that are of recent date than the others. That they are honest in what they said I have no doubt. Everything indicated it, and it was plainly shown when Mr. Backus and Mr. Rome spoke of the amount of gas in sight that these gentlemen did not confirm it.

If 12,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet of gas in addition to the small quantity that is now being drawn from the wells shall be taken in 12 days will permanently injure the plant, why should the city put up bonds? Taxpayers, it requires courage to save a losing business, yet to submit to a loss by degrees is cowardly. Rise up to-day, pay cheerfully your loss to date and stop further out-goes and humiliation. TOLEDO AT CHICAGO.

The Merrill Manufacturing Co. at the World's Fair.

The Directors Decide to Have a Great Exhibit That Will Cost About $10,000.

tA a meeting of the directors of the Merrill Manufacturing company held yesterday afternoon at Mr. Merrill's office on Madison street, is was decided to expend between $7,000 and $10,000 on an exhibit at the world's fair.

Work will be commenced at once on an elaborate wind mill that will be as ornamental as it will be useful. A prominent location has been secured.

The company has been very successful in its sales of wind mills. So far this year the product and sales of the institution have been four times that of last year. The apparatus is now heralding the name of Toledo from thousands of bills and the demand is constantly increasing.

In connection with the one at the world's fair there will be two large elevated tanks of water and the mill will be in operation during the fair.

COUNCIL COMMITTEES.

Another Evening With the Electric Street Railroads.

The Park Committee Approves Condemnation Proceedings—A Busy Night With the City Dads.

The differences between the rival street railway companies had another airing before the council committee on railroads last evening, and a warm discussion was indulged in by Mr. A. E. Lang of the Consolidated, and Mr. David Robison, jr. It was caused by the ordinance requiring a joint reconstruction of the tracks used by both companies on Adams, Summit, Broadway and Monroe streets. The ordinance had been referred back to the committee, and Mr. Robison asked that it be reapproved. Mr. Lang opposed it, and in the discussion the fact was brought out that both companies have purchased rails and other material and are ready to commence work as soon as the authority was granted. Mr. Lang wanted to be allowed to repair the track under the present ordinance, but the Robisons want a chance to assist in the reconstruction, and thereby gain a partial control of these tracks.

Finally the ordinance was approved, Messrs. Huberich and Hodge being the only ones to vote against it.

Upon the recommendation of the board of park commissioners the committee on parks adopted the following resolution:

To condemn and appropriate the following described property for park purposes: Blocks 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, excepting the right of way of the Ann Arbor railway, and blocks 39, 40, 41, 42, and water blocks 34 to 42 inclusive, North Toledo, and blocks 55, 56, 57, and 58, Stickney's addition, from the southeast line of Summit street to the northwest line of Water street, excepting the Ann Arbor railway.

This is the first step toward securing some good park property which will greatly improve the city.

* * *

The street committee handled considerable business and cut short on discussions. Ordinances were approved to pave Bancroft street from Monroe street to the Lake Shore railway; to grade Chicago street between Michigan and Summit streets; to grade Walnut street between Yates and Frederick streets, and to pave the alley between Huron and Erie streets, from Monroe to Jefferson.

Resolutions approved were to pave Dorr street, Lenk to Waite avenue; to open George street from Lagrange to Locust; to open Colburn street from Broadway to Canal avenue; to pave Missouri street from Washington street to Collingwood avenue; to pave Scottwood avenue, Bancroft to Monroe; to pave Erie street, Ash to Galena; to pave Floyd street, Warren to Fulton; to grade McCloud avenue, Seaman street to the Belt railway; to pave the alley between Superior and Huron streets, Madison to Adams; to pave Bartlett street, Twenty-second to Lawrence avenue; and to open Montana street near Miami.

The contract for paving Dove lane with Medina stone was awarded to H. P. Streicher at $1,430.09.

* * *

The sewer committee assisted the matter of drainage by approving resolutions to build sewers in Bancroft street, Monroe to Central avenue; in the alley between Oswald and Platt streets, Second to Fourth, and in Second, Platt, First and Bridge streets.

A KING KILLED BY FRIGHT.

One of the most remarkable instances in history of death by fright is that of King Frederick I. of Prussia. He was actually scared to death by his wife. He was one day sleeping in an arm-chair when his queen, Louisa of Mecklenberg, who had been hopelessly insane for some time, escaped from her keepers and made her way to his private apartments. As mentioned above, Frederick was dozing when his wife, dressed in a pure white gown, dashed through the plate glass door and threw herself in a raging delirium upon him. In breaking the glass she of course cut herself most horribly. The king had not been apprised of the hopelessness of her case, and was astonished beyond measure at the appearance of the woman, clad only in linen and covered with blood. His shrieks aroused the whole palace, but when she had been secured the king himself was found to be in a raging delirium. From this he never recovered, but died trying to hide from terrible phantoms.

THREE OF A KIND.

A young man who suffers from the embarrassing affliction of stammering entered one of the modest beaneries of Park Row the other evening to get a lunch. He chose the place, not because of its attractions, nor because it was handy, but rather because he dislikes to go into a more public place with his faultiness of speech. As luck would have it, however, there were no vacant tables, and he was obliged to sit down to one already occupied by another young man.

"Puh—puh—puh—pork and b-b-b-b-beans," he murmured to the waiter who came up.

That functionary looked a little surprised. "Puh—puh—puh—pork and b-b-b-b-beans. All r-r-r-right, sir," he said, and hurried back with the order.

The young man was very indignant at being mocked. He reddened, and when the waiter came back he got up with the intention of boxing the fellow's ears.

But no sooner was he on his feet than the young man who sat opposite also arose and interfered.

"D-d-d-d-on't hit him!" cried the new young man. "He w-w-w-wasn't m-m-mocking you. He st-st-st-stutters l-l-l-like w-w-w-we d-d-do."—N. Y. Recorder.

IN JUNE.

The birds come back to their last year's nest,
And the wild rose nods in the lane;
And the gold in the east and red in the west,
The sun bestirs him again.

The thief bee rifles the jasmine flower,
And the breezes softly sigh
For the Columbine in my lady's bower!
And then at her feet they die.

And all the pomp of the June is here,
The mirth and passion and song;
And young is the summer, and life is dear,
And the day is never too long.

Ah! birds come back to their last year's nest,
And the wild rose laughs in the lane;
But I turn to the east, and I turn to the west,
She never will come again.

SNAKES NOT SO BAD.

"People have an inborn, low-down opinion of snakes," said a man from Pike county. "Everything that is bad or mean or loathsome they never hesitate to associate with the name of snake. This isn't the people's fault. It is the result of ignorance. It is their misfortune not to know the snake. If they would only come into closer communion with snakes and study them without prejudice they would find that the popular estimate of these interesting and intelligent reptiles has done them ages of injustice. That unfortunate affair in the Garden of Eden ought to be sufficient evidence that the snake is smart. A little circumstance of more recent occurrence, which I want to tell you about, will convince anyone that the snake is by no means bad.

"The water snake, although pretty and harmless, is one of the most unpopular members of the ophidian race. This is probably because he has a rare tooth for fish, and especially trout, of which he takes a great many away from the angler every year. And when you come to think of it, why hasn't he as good a right to them as the angler? Anyhow, whether he has or not, he shows a delicate sense of what is good by his partiality for trout.

"One day I was fishing for trout up in Pike county, and I saw a water snake drop down into the creek from an alder, only a few yards ahead of me, and presently come out on the other side of the stream with a trout in his mouth. I at that time shared the popular dislike for snakes, and when I saw this one with the trout I became so enraged that I picked up a stone and threw it at the snake. The stone struck the snake a foot or so above its tail and disabled it. It dropped the fish, which was still alive, and the trout flopped back into the water. The snake lay writhing on the ground, and I was cruel enough to pass on, leaving it to die, as I believed in agony, because of my abhorence of its kind.

The next day, fishing the same stream again, as I approached the spot where I had stoned the water snake I saw a kingfisher sitting on a dead limb above a pool in the brook. I knew it was watching for a fish, and I stopped to see whether the bird would catch one. I had to wait but a very short time. The kingfisher plumped like a shot down into the water, disappeared for a moment, and came up with a good-sized chub in its bill. I expected of course, to see the bird fly home with its catch, but instead of that it flew to the side of the creek and, to my surprise, laid the chub on the ground in front of the snake that I hadn't noticed before. It was the water snake I had hit with the stone the day before. It was not dead, but had been unable to move away from the spot where the stone had crippled it. As the kingfisher laid the fish in front of the snake, the latter seized it and proceeded to gorge it. The kingfisher flew back to its limb, went to fishing again, soon caught another fish and flew with it to its nest.

"Now, a half-witted man couldn't have helped but understand what this all meant at a glance. The wounded snake, unable to move, and consequently unable to get anything to eat, had been discovered in its sad plight by the kingfisher, and the king-fisher, being a tender-hearted bird, had taken pity on it, and was feeding it to keep it alive until its wounds healed and it was able to do for itself again. This touched me, and I resolved to let the snake alone and see what the outcome of the incident would be. I didn't get back on the creek again for three or four days after that, and when I got down to where the snake had lain it had gone. Of course I had no means of knowing what had become of it, but naturally concluded it had recovered and had gone away.

"While I stood there the kingfisher alighted on the dead limb again, and sat there as motionless as a knot, watching for a chance to catch a fish. A kingfisher fishing is always an interesting sight to me, and so I waited again to see the result of this vigil. I had to wait a good while this time, for the bird was evidently intent on big game. While he sat there watching, a fishhawk appeared, high up circling around over the creek, looking for a dinner himself. By and by the kingfisher's opportunity came. He shot into the water, came out with a trout and started for home. I don't know whether the fishhawk had his microscopic eye on that trout or not, but if he had he didn't intend to be done out of it by the kingfisher. The latter had gone scarcely a rod when down on him the fishhawk pounced and a lively but short struggle for the possession of the trout ensued. The kingfisher, finding the fight too hot for him, dropped the trout. It fell on the ground, but before the hawk could fasten his talons in it, a snake shot out of the bushes like a flash, grabbed the trout and shot back out of sight in the bushes again. As soon as the kingfisher dropped the trout it flew back to the dead limb and went to fishing again. I never saw anything suprised quite as much as that hawk when he saw the trout disappear in the bushes. He hovered over the spot a minute or so, as if he couldn't believe his eyes, and then sailed away.

"'Well,' I said to myself, 'that wise old snake just lay and got the best of both of them!'

"I was about to start on again, when I saw a movement in the bushes at the foot of the tree the kingfisher was on. I looked and out came the snake with the trout in its mouth. It paused a moment at the foot of the tree, and then climbed it. The snake made its way out on the limb where the kingfisher was sitting, looking very disconsolate, and touched the bird on the side. The kingfisher turned quickly around looking surprised for a moment, and then took the trout the snake handed over to him, and flew away home. The snake went back down the tree and disappeared in the bushes.

"It was all plain enough to me then. The snake was the one I had wounded, and the kingfisher had been good Samaritan to it, and it had taken this opportunity to show its gratitude to the kind-hearted bird. From that minute I changed by opinion of snakes, for I felt that I had never known them before."

"Is this hot enough for you?" is a silly question; but if you meet a man who complains of suffering from the heat, ten to one you will find, on inquiry, that he does not use Ayer's Sarsaparilla to tone up his system and free his blood from irritating humors.

THE DRUMMER JOKE.

It Is Turned on Himself by a Rustic in the Buckeye State.

On a recent trip through Ohio a peculiar incident occurred, which I think will bear telling. A fellow-drummer, who represents a Chicago house, and myself, were en route to Cleveland, and at a station at which our train stopped, among the idlers and sightseers that were congregated about the depot was a tall, hulking fellow with his trousers in his boot tops and his hands thrust deep into his pockets. Just as our train was ready to start, my companion thrust his head out of the car window and, addressing the rustic individual just mentioned, said:

"How far is it up to the farm?"

"What's that?" said the rustic.

"I say, what's the name of this town?"

"Oh, this is Chenworth."

Just then our train began moving away from the station, and the drummer, to have some fun with the countryman, yelled at him: "You're a fool; you don't know beans!"

"Who's a fool?" exclaimed Mr. Rustic.

"You are," retorted the drummer, shaking his fist at him as the train disappeared from the station, then closed the window and joined in the laugh caused by his rencontre. Just then the train came to a stop and commenced backing up toward the depot. My drumming friend realized suddenly that his rustic acquaintance might want to renew the subject lately under discussion, and amid the roars of laughter from every man in the "smoker" made a break for the baggage car, and none too soon, for the moment the train came to a standstill on a siding to allow a west-bound train to pass in rushed the excited rustic with "blood in his eye."

"Where is he?" he exclaimed. "Show me the feller that says I'm a fool," looking right and left in search of the drummer. "I'll tear his heart out."

Just then the west-bound train arrived and our train commenced to move forward again, and to avoid being carried away our enraged rustic was obliged to hastily leave without the heart of the hiding drummer, who soon came back into the car, amid the jeers and gibes of his fellow-travelers. At the next stop our joking drummer completely ignored the gaping rustics at the station and diligently perused a Recorder three days old which he had found in his grip.

Don't Let High Prices of Adjoining Property Frighten You!

CUSHING'S :: LEAP :: YEAR :: ADDITION

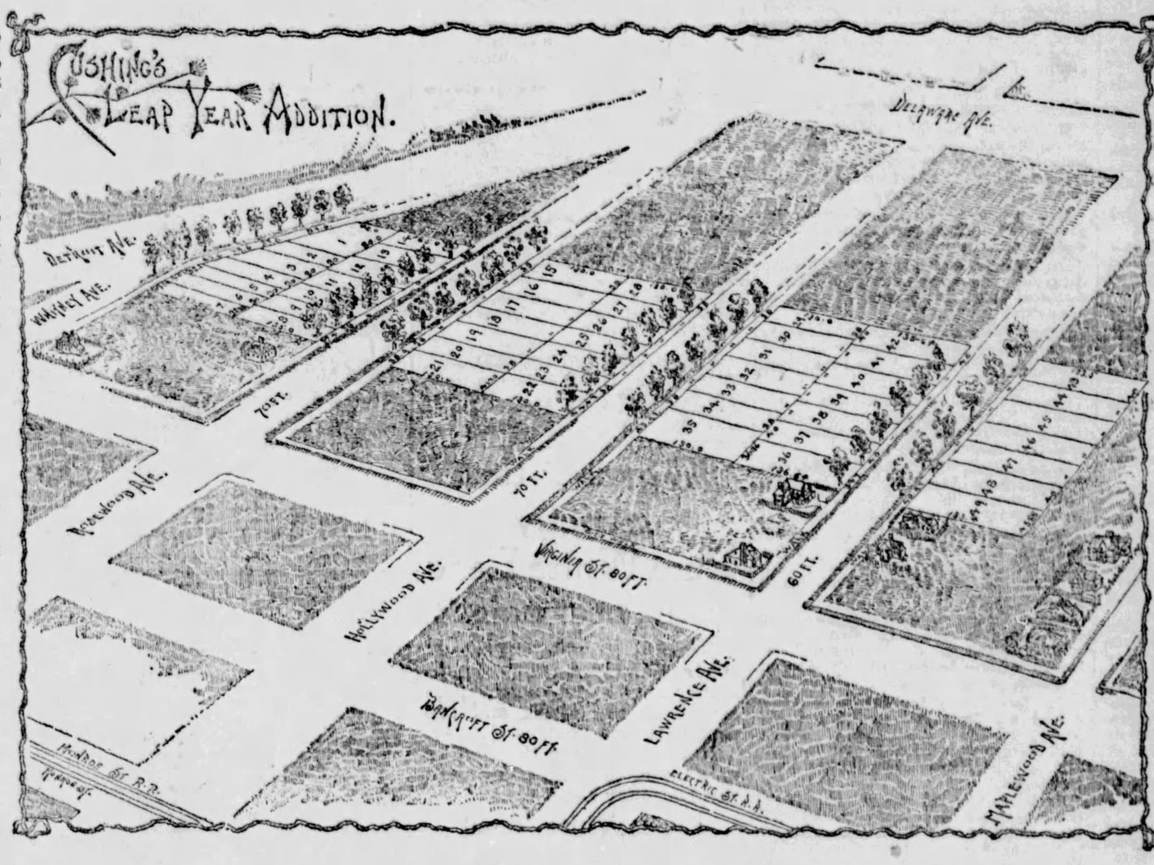
STREET CAR FACILITIES ARE UNEQUALLED

In Toledo. Almost within hailing distance you have three cars, viz: The Electric Belt Line going both ways, and the Monroe Street Line—either one of which will take you down town in less than fifteen minutes.

What's the use riding in a car, however, when you can walk down easily in twenty-five minutes or ride down on your bicycle in ten minutes?



BANK ON TOLEDO! DIGEST THIS!

Although Toledo has received a good inheritance from nature, and has accomplished wonders in the last few years, yet she has never fully realized her marvelous advantages. Farsighted men, however, are investing in Real Estate, as they realize that she will soon awaken with a start.

The sleeping man who was kicked, said he felt it but didn't see it coming. Don't you be asleep and be compelled to say likewise when Toledo does get a boost. Awake from your stupor and take a hypodermic injection of sound, solid sense.

There are altogether too many sleepers in our midst. You can easily spot them. They drowsily imagine themselves back in the seventies, and are fond of their Manhattan recollections. They are afraid of improvements and prefer to be torpid like their livers. Don't mind them. They are dying off rapidly.

Toledo is a winner, so put your surplus savings into land now.

Our Leap Year Addition was platted for you.

Take the elevator on the basement floor and go up with the prices.

These Lots are in it! What?

The best residence portion of Toledo to-day is situated west of Collingwood, between Monroe and Delaware, comprising Parkwood, Scottwood, Robinwood, Glenwood, Maplewood, Lawrence, Hollywood, Rosewood and Detroit avenues. This section has seen some wonderful changes in the last five or six years. What was then almost one vast open field, to-day is sub-divided by beautiful asphalt streets, traversed by electric cars, and dotted with handsome residences, the homes of some of our most prominent and respected citizens. Those who bought on these streets six years ago, have made fortunes as the records show that this property has MORE THAN DOUBLED EVERY THREE YEARS. Now is the time to invest, as what was a SPECULATION five or six years ago, is a SURE INVESTMENT TO-DAY.

What Shall the Harvest be for You?

PLANT YOUR DIMES IN OUR LEAP YEAR ADDITION AND REAP A FULL CROP OF DOLLARS!

WHY DONT YOU BUY A HOME?

Be honest. Look this question squarely in the face, it is of vital importance to you. Don't beat around the bush and say you don't need one now, for that is all bosh. You may not wish to build now, but buy a lot and put your savings into it. By next spring your lot has greatly increased in value, you have saved money and feel better able to build. We will advance money for you to build. If you are young and unmarried, that is not saying that you always will be, so get a gait. You may get around it by saying that you cannot now afford it, but this is nonsense, as every one of us spend more money needlessly every month than the small payments necessary to buy a home. If you are a married man, it is a duty which you owe your family to supply them with "all the comforts of a home." Do you realize that landlords are getting fat at you expense? Down with rents. IF YOU DO NOT ATTEND OUR SALE and see what we have to offer, you may be likened to a man who saw a ten dollar gold piece on the street and passed it by thinking it was brass. He left it for a shrewder man to pick up.

REAL ESTATE ON MONTHLY PAYMENTS--Offers the best inducements to those of slender means. Lots on installment plan differs from most every thing else. For instance, you buy a piano and have three or four years to pay for it, you have made a good bargain, because you wanted the piano and perhaps couldn't find it convenient to pay for it at once. SO WITH THE LOT. However, at end of period the piano has decreased in value, but the lots HAS DOUBLED IN VALUE.

BONUSES—This is for You. Have you seen that elegant Porlor Set of Furniture, now on exhibition in Conant Bros. Furniture Company's window? It is to be GIVEN AWAY FREE to those who attend our sale, everybody to have a chance to draw it, whether they buy a lot or not. If desired it can be changed for any thing in the store to the amount of $100.00. We want you all to come, and offer this as an inducement.

Besides offering these lots at prices which put us to the blush, we will share our profits still further with the purchasers, BY GIVING THEM LOT NO. 1 FREE! The purchasers themselves to settle how it is to be awarded.

YOU MAY WELL WONDER How we can do this, but it is no secret and is easily explained. It is simply a matter of business, and comes under the head of wholesale and retail. We have placed the prices on these lots to sell them during the sale, and if you buy you are getting lots at wholesale prices. Besides, we own property above this addition which will be more valuable after this sale. If any lots are left over, which is not likely, you will have to pay what they are worth, or an advance of 25 per cent. to 40 per cent. Isn't this worth saving? We must do business.

First come, first served! Remember the dates. No lots sold before 2 o'clock Tuesday You need only bring $10.00 with you during the sale. Title perfect. Lenderson, Lang & Stewart opinion with every lot. Call at our office for Consolidated and Robinson tickets. Free ride, free lunch, free furniture, free lot, free air and freedom. What more do you want?

The Whitelaw Reid Conversion is Doubted.

The International Typographical Union in Session in Philadelphia Takes Important Action.

New York, June 17.—A special meeting of typographical union, No. 6, has been called for next Sunday in Clarendon hall for the purpose of taking action on the work of its committee at Minneapolis in claiming that the differences between the union and Mr. Whitelaw Reid, the republican nominee for vice president, had been settled.

Both sides will be heard. The committee which represented the union at Minneapolis was composed of President Kenny, of the union; ex-president Brennan and Robert Costello.

It is asserted that the committee overstepped its authority. One of the committee, ex-President Brennan, was to-day made foreman of the Tribune composing room. He was the foreman of the American Press association. Schaefer, the present foreman of the Tribune, is nonunion and the printers will not have anything to do with him.

Some of the old hands on the paper will be admitted to the union.

It is also stated that President Kenny is to receive a lucrative government position for his part of the work done at Minneapolis.

President Kenny is reported to have said that what was done at Minneapolis will receive the sanction of the union.

THE INTERNATIONAL.

The New York Tribune Case Before the Session.

Philadelphia, June 17.—The session of the International Typographical union was resumed yesterday morning.

The report of the committee on laws was taken up. The first six sections of the article on "standing orders" were passed, amoung them being the following:

"Sec. 4.—The executive council is instructed to prepare a suitably designed union label, to be used on all printed matter, where desired by the publisher, and also to regulate the use of the same.

Sec. 5.—The international officers are authorized to pay the assessments of the American Federation of Labor as they fall due.

"Sec. 6.—The international officers are empowered to appoint a committee to preserve the integrity of the typesetting clause of the international copyright law; and are also required to ascertain the number of compositors employed, hours of work, price of composition and other data in publishing houses of New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago."

Then the delegates went into executive session for the purpose of considering the report of the board of trustees of the Childs-Drexel home for union printers, and also for the purpose of electing the various officers of the organization.

The delegates regarded the visit of Mr. George W. Childs to the convention as the event of the day, and when he arrived, he was given a rousing ovation. The occasion was among the most pleasant of the many enjoyable incidents in connection with this convention and the speech welcoming Mr. Childs, by President Prescott, and the address of the proprietor of the Public Ledger to the delegates were heartily applauded.

A session of the convention was held this evening. The following telegram was received:

New York, June 16.

John D. Burke:

Please read to convention or show around:

The settlement with the Tribune is completed and the office is unionized. It is entirely a local matter with which the International union cannot legally interfere. The action of the committee at Minneapolis was in the judgment of myself and other members of the union a piece of superb tactics. The committee are above suspicion and acted within their rights and powers. This settlement will make it almost impossible hereafter for a leading party newspaper to run a nonunion force. Let No. 6 alone.

(Signed.) J. R. O'DONNELL.

A motion to lay the telegram was lost. Mr. Burke, of New York, moved to refer the entire consideration of the question to Typographical Uunion No. 6, of New York city. Finally, by a vote of 125 to 20, the question was deferred until the president of the New York Typographical union should arrive.

In addition to the re-election of President Prescott, the following additional officers were elected in the evening:

First vice president, James J. Hennifen, of Nashville; third vice president, P. J. Weldon, of Chicago; secretary and treasurer, W. S. McCleary, of Chicago. No one received a majority for second vice president, and the election was postponed until to-morrow morning. The following district organizers were elected: Second district, J. F. Klunk, of Kansas City; third district, Frederick M. Whitehead, Galveston; Fourth district, William Jones, Louisville; Fifth district, J. W. Patterson, Ottawa, Canada; Eghth district, J. M. Hawks, Seattle; Seventh district, F. M. Pinneo, Salt Lake.

Garfield Tea corrects evils of over-eating and restores to health the liver, kidneys and bowels.

CONGRESSMAN BRYAN.

He Wakes the Democratic Echoes in Ann Arbor.

Ann Arbor, Mich., June 17.—A few weeks ago the republican students held high carnival here, and this afternoon the democrats are having their innings.

The guest of the day is Congressman W. J. Bryan, of Nebraska, who, this evening, will deliver before the University of Michigan Democratic club a reply to the address made to the republican students by Gov. McKinley.

The democratic citizens are making the day a gala one, and the Nebraska congressman will have a reception that will be a surprise to him.

WHEN SUMMER COMES.

Why June is a Month When the Nerves are Too Often Shaky.

There is a trouble which comes to most people at this season of the year. It is the result of the change from winter to summer which causes a tired and unstrung condition.

The nerves are shaky, the muscles relaxed, and the head is not clear. It has been a popular error to suppose that this is due to a disordered condition of the blood. It is not. It is the result of a bad state of the nerves and of the brain. A very warm day comes, and the languid feeling shows how nervous, how really weak we are.

We must do something if we do not wish to become sick. We must build up the nerves, feed the brain and put ourselves in a proper condition. No ordinary help, no everyday concoction, sarsaparilla or blood purifier will restore the strength. Something scientific, something pure and powerful and at the same time harmless, is an absolute necessity. There is but one thing known to medical science that answers these conditions, and that is Paine's celery compound. It has toned up more nerves, built up more strength and established more health than any other medicine.

The Bee could name scores of well known men and women, not only in Toledo, but in other places, who have felt worn, weak and weary, but who are now strong and well, solely by the use of Paine's celery compound. This remedy is a physician's prescription, is a pure food for the brain and nerves, cures sleeplessness, headaches and all disorders of the nervous system and purifies the blood in a rational and scientific manner.

THE ELKS.

They Disperse to Round up in Detroit Next Year.

Buffalo, June 17.—At the closing session of the Elks' conclave a number of committee recommendations were accepted. Royal purple was continued as the color of the order and the forget-me-not as its floral emblem. It was resolved to adopt a law prohibiting holding sessions or picnics on Sunday. Votes of thanks were extended for courtesies received here. W. C. Smith, of Elmira, was appointed inner guard; J. Williams, of Denver, grand esquire, and L. E. Griffiths, of Troy, L. Hadden, of Cincinnati, and E. B. Fuller, of Haverhill, Mass., committee on laws and appeals. The grand lodge then adjourned to meet in Detroit next year.

SAFE, SURE AND SPEEDY.

No external remedy ever yet devised has so fully and unquestionably met these three prime conditions as successfully as Allcock's Porous Plasters. They are safe because they contain no deleterious drugs and are manufactured upon scientific principles of medicine. They are sure because nothing goes into them except ingredients which are exactly adapted to the purposes for which a plaster is required. They are speedy in their action because their medicinal qualities go right to their work of relieving pain and restoring the natural and healthy performance of the functions of muscles, nerves and skin. Do not be deceived by misrepresentation. Ask for Allcock's, and let no solicitation or explanation induce you to accept a substitute.

RELIGION IS THE CAUSE

Of the Greater Part of Ireland's Troubles.

Protestant and Catholic Interests Clash.

Mass Meeting of the Ulster Loyalist to Protest Against the Danger of Irish Home Rule.

New York, June 17.—A dispatch from London says: Great interest, not to say anxiety, is manifested in the outcome of the great convention of Ulster "Loyalists," which opened at Belfast this morning. The gathering is a large one and is presided over by the Duke of Abercorn.

Its object is to enable the Orangemen to formally place on record their intention to resort to rebellion against the queen and the imperial parliament rather than submit to the Irish parliament in Dublin.

This is something in the line of the program suggested in the speech a couple of months ago of Lord Salisbury, the present premier.

It is thought by the Orange element that the English voters can be coerced by the loyalists of Ireland if home rule is conceded to the Irish nationalist party, while the religious scruples of the numerous religious denominations are to be worked upon by suggestions of the troublous times that may come to the Irish Protestants if the Roman Catholic church succeeds in getting political control.

The liberals profess not to be a whit dismayed at the fulminations of the loyalist party. The speakers this afternoon will include Col. Saunderson, a rabid Orangeman and home rule opponent, and Hon. F. W. Russell.

BUILDINGS WRECKED.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, lapse or confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milkish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of Diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases (and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, of color. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practitioner, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that obstructs the sexual functions, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

IN TRADING CIRCLES.

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

What Quotations for the Day—Price Currents for Produce and Other Articles.

The receipts of wheat to-day at Minneapolis and Duluth are 386,392 bu, and at five other western points 173,111 bu.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were: Wheat 261,036 bu and flour to an aggregate of 554,000 bu. Export of corn 122,627 bu, and of oats 18,310 bu.

English markets open steady for wheat and corn.

Stocks of wheat and rye in Berlin on June 1 were 672,000 bu and 695,000 bu respectively. Same time last year wheat was reported at 224,000 and rye 63,200 bu.

Reported that the gold shipments from New York for Europe on Saturday will be $2,000,000, making $4,500,000 for the week.

The Markets To-day.

Reports of foreign markets to-day indicate a stronger tone, and opening prices were not advanced. The quotations in Liverpool must advance in order to justify exportations at present prices around the lakes. But Liverpool prices are very low, and ought to appreciate.

The crop news is mostly favorable, about which we will deal with more at length to-morrow. Prices started a shade higher on wheat, influenced perhaps by an advance on July corn, but neither wheat or corn had staying qualities, and the result has been weak but steady markets at a fraction below yesterday. Cecil

London, Liverpool, Paris and Berlin wheat markets all closed higher, the latter two only a small fraction.

In New York June and July wheat closed 3-4c lower. June corn unchanged. July 1c lower. June oats 3-4c lower.

In Chicago July wheat closed 5-8c lower. June corn 3-4 higher, and July 1c lower. June oats 1-4c up.

In Toledo the business in wheat continues quite light and without interest. Our prices for July delivery opened 1-2c up, but the firmness was of short duration, and prices weakened, and slowly declined to the close at a loss of 3-4c. On the call June sold at 87 1-2c and August at 82 3-4c. After the call June sold at 86 7-8c and closed at 1-4c asked. July sold at 84 1-2c and closed at 83 1-4c. August sold at 82 1-4c and closed at 81 3-4c.

Cash wheat was more active and a cargo was disposed of. No. 2 soft opened at 87 1-4c, at which most of the sales were made, and closed at 86 1-4c, a loss of 3-4c; No. 3 soft at 84 1-2c.

Corn—On the call July sold at 50 to 49 3-4c; after the call July at 50c; No. 3 at 47 to 46c; No. 4 at 41c; No. 3 yellow at 48c to 47 1-2c.

Clover seed—On the call October sold at $5 42 1-2 to $5 40.

CLOSE IN NEW YORK.

Governments steady; currency 6s 103 bid; extended 2s registered 100 bid; 4s coupon 117 7-8 bid.

Stocks were less active this morning and trading was confined chiefly to Whisky Trust, New England, W. & L. E., Chi. Gas, L. & N., and St. Paul. In the opening half hour prices were strong and led by the Whisky Trust advance of 1-8 to 1 3-8 per cent., but in the half hour to 11 o'clock there was some selling which caused a partial reaction. St. Paul was the feature of the second hour. It was very strong, advancing on a good buying 1 1-4 per cent. to 83 3-8c. The remainder of the list were strengthened to the extent of a fraction by this advance. At 1 p. m. the market is dull but generally firm and fractionally higher for most stocks than they closed yesterday. Sales, 112,700 shares.

Flour heavy and unsettled; Minnesota extra, 265@480; city mill extra, 425@450 for West Indies; fine, $1 80@2 50; superfine, $2 35@3 00.

Corn opened strong and 3-4c higher, but soon lost the advance. At noon prices were 1-8c lower; No. 2 mixed 60 cash; 54 5-8c July; 53 1-2c August; 53 1-4c September.

Dry Goods.

New York, June 17.—The dry goods market was more animated to-day, although the active movements were of a special character. Bleached shirtings, lately reduced in prices, were being taken in good blocks. The indications will not extend very far, and those made will be shortly advanced. Bleached goods from 7c down are scarce and very firm. It seems probable that as soon as the revisions are completed a turn in tendencies will become general and prices go up. Dwight 4-4 bleached was reduced to 8c, Maissonelle 4-4 bleached, being without stock, are booked for orders at value. Likewise Farmers Choice, which was reduced from 6c to 5 3-4c, are at value. Business was fair in other directions with relative activity in prints and ginghams. Woolens were in moderate demand.

EVIDENCE GIVEN

In the Case of Joseph Kromer of Tiffin,

Charged With Robbing a United States Mail Bag—Cases Continued.

As anticipated, the case now on in United States court of the United States vs. Joseph Kromer, of Tiffin, charged with robbing a United States mail bag, is being vigorously contested, the defense disputing every inch of the ground. General Gibson, postmaster at Tiffin, and Postal Inspector Letherman, were the first witnesses, and Mrs. Kissinger came next and created considerable consternation by testifing that a deputy sheriff had tried to influence her to testify for the defendant. Kittenmeyer, who turned state's evidence against Kromer, was the next witness and had not finished when court adjourned last night, and continued his testimony this morning.

E. C. Jump, charged with violation of the revenue laws, plead guilty and was fined $10 and costs and given 30 days to pay the same or be committed.

O. A. Hanner, charged with violation of the revenue laws, plead guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

In the case of the United States vs. James Rooney for obstructing navigation, the defendant asked to have the case continued until the December term, and gave bonds of $300 to appear.

Geo. V. Gage, charged with obstructing navigation, applied for a continuation of the case which was granted, and was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear at the December term of court.

The case of Wilson Hawk, charged with attempting to bribe a United States officer, was continued and Hawk gave bail of $300 to appear at the December term.

And Shed a Flood of Water on Scranton.

The Flats Inundated and Several Lives Reported to Have Been Lost—Lightning's Work.

Scranton, Pa., June 17.—A cloudburst inundated the streets of this city last night. The flats on "South Side" are covered, and the water has risen to the second stories of hundreds of houses.

Fears are felt for the safety of Dunnings' dam.

Lightning, which was incessant for five hours, struck six houses within the city limits, killing three persons and stunning several more.

The trolley wires are down all over the city and travel by street cars has been suspended.

There are reports of loss of life in the flats in the southern part of the city.

Reports of widespread damage in Lackawanna and Luzerne counties are coming in. Washouts have occurred on the Delaware & Hudson railway tracks.

MORE THAN SKIN TIGHT.

A young man went into Solomon Solomon's place a week or so ago and said he wanted to have a pair of trousers made. That's Mr. Solomon's business, and he soon had roll after roll of material down for inspection. When the choice had been made and the measuring was begun, the young man said:

"I want you to make 'em skin tight."

Mr. Solomon rolled his eyes up from his stooping position.

"Skin tight!" he repeated, aghast. "Vy, mein frent, dot vos not de shtyles. Ve gan't ruins our pizness by durning oud anyding vot vas not in the shtyles! Say, mein frient, you don'd vant dot skin dight"

"I want 'em skin tight. I don't care nothin' about no style. I'm doin' this here business to suit myself. If you don't want to make 'em the way I want 'em, you needn't make 'em at all. Now take your choice."

Mr. Solomon raised his shoulders into his neck and turned out the palms of his hands.

"Vell, mein frent, schust as you say. I make 'em skin dight. But you nod pe sadisfite mid 'em. But I do schust as you say."

A few days later the young man called and got the articles and took them home. From a cursory inspection in the shop he said he thought they were just right. But in an hour he was back again.

"See here!" he cried, rushing up to the obliging Mr. Solomon. "What kind of things do you call these!" And he shook the trousers out of the paper wrapper and held them up.

"Dose?" inquired Mr. Solomon, carefully adjusting his eyeglasses. "Dose? I gall dose skin dight pands."

"But what did you make 'em like this for?"

"Like dot? Vell, my frent, I told you I gan'd help it. You dold me to make 'em schust so tight as your skin."

"I know I did. But hully gee! I can sit down in my skin!"—N. Y. Recorder.

"BRIGHT'S DISEASE."

This Dread Disease is Due to Catarrh of the Kidneys.

Pain in the back and loins, restlessness, flashes of heat, disturbance of the stomach, loss of appetite, and hectic fever are the most prominent symptoms in the first stage of Bright's disease. In the later stages of the disease there is a puffiness under the eye, swelling of the feet, bloody urine, dropsy, convulsions and great weakness.

At the appearance of the first symptom Pe-ru-na should be taken in tablespoonful doses six times each day; or, if more convenient, two tablespoonfuls three times each day before each meal. This remedy strikes at once at the very root of the disease. It at once relieves the congested kidneys of their stagnant blood, preventing the escape of serum from the blood. Pe-ru-na stimulates the kidneys to excrete from the blood the accumulating poison, and thus prevents the convulsions which are sure to follow if the poisons are allowed to remain. It gives great vigor to the heart's action and digestive system, both of which are apt to fail rapidly in this disease. Pe-ru-na is just as reliable in cases of chronic "Bright's disease" as in the acute. No matter how long it has run, or to what extremity the patient may be reduced, there is always hope in Pe-ru-na.

Everyone should have a copy of The Family Physician No. 2, a complete treatise on catarrh in all of its forms, written especially for family use. Sent free to any address by The Pe-ru-na Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, O.

TWENTY YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

C. D. Fredericks, the well-known photographer, 770 Broadway, New York, says: "I have been using Allcock's Porous Plasters for 20 years, and found them one of the best of family medicines. Briefly summing up my experience, I say that when placed on the small of the back Allcock's Plasters fill the body with nervous energy, and thus cure fatigue, brain exhaustion, debility and kidney difficulties. For women and children I have found them invaluable. They never irritate the skin or cause the slightest pain, but cure sore throat, coughs, colds, pains in side, back or chest, indigestion and bowel complaint."

For catarrh in all its various forms, asthma, bronchitis, consumption and all other throat, nose and lung diseases, by inhalation treatment with compressed gases.

The physicians of the above institute are becoming so well and favorably known in Columbus that it is hardly necessary to mention their superior skill. Those who are incurable are frankly told so. Some who think their troubles are of a trifling nature are found by their peculiar methods of analyzing diseased conditions to be not only in a dangerous condition, but beyond human power to control. Likewise many who have doctored for years even until they have given up the cherished hope of a cure in despair and resigned themselves to a miserable existence, are speedily and permanently returned to health; especially is this true of diseases of the nervous system. To those who have become discouraged we would say, by all means visit the doctors and obtain their opinion if you have not already done so.

Drs. France & Ottman, formerly of New York, now of The France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo, Saturday, June 18. Consultation and examination free and strictly confidential in the private parlor of the Burnett house, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.
